Alma's Might Diminishes

Hurricane Splashes Across Georgia After Hitting Florida

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP) — The remnant of Hurricane Alma, her might diminished after hitting the Florida Panhandle, is splashing through Georgia today.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami predicted rains up to eight inches along a wide path from Georgia to the Carolinas. The center warned of possible flooding.

Tornado-like winds apparently churned by Alma's dwindling strength were reported in several parts of Georgia.

But Alma no longer met hurricane standards with winds of 75 miles per hour or more. Her highest winds were estimated at 70 m.p.h., and reported ebbing.

The early-season monster from the tropics, charged with 47 deaths in three nations, was reported moving northeastward from near Valdosta about 12 miles per hour.

Alma roared into the Florida Panhandle Thursday with winds estimated at 100 miles per hour.

Some houses were damaged and pecan trees uprooted when high winds with characteristics of a tornado lashed a rural section five miles northeast of Albany, Ga.

Another windstorm, also possibly a small tornado, struck west of Augusta, Ga., blowing away a tool shed and nearly unroofing a home.

Eleven soldiers were hospitalized at Fort Gordon near Augusta, Ga., when a bus overturned on wet pavement.

The storm's 47 fatalities represented 35 deaths in Honduras, near where the storm spawned with torrential rains last Monday; seven in Cuba, and five in Florida.

Damage to crops in food rationed Cuba was believed considerable. Tobacco, once Cuba's second important commodity, next to sugar, was reported a heavy casualty in western Cuba.

Western Union Workers Sign New Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western Union's telegraph wires hummed across the nation again today after some 20,000 striking employees returned to work with a hefty pay raise and other gains in a new contract.

"I consider this a very good contract," said President E. L. Hageman of the AFL-CIO Commercial Telegraphers' Union.

The employees, who averaged $2.52 per hour under the old contract, won pay increases of 4.5 per cent a year for two years, serve as a legislator without considerably in excess of White House guidelines that seek to hold wage hikes to 3.2 per cent annually.

16 Killed in Kansas

Cleanup Begun in Wake of Tornado

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — The problems of caring for several thousand persons left homeless by a tornado which took 16 lives faced city officials today.

Most of those whose homes were lost or heavily damaged in the disaster put up temporarily with friends, relatives and strangers. Four Red Cross shelters were open in schools and the municipal auditorium.

About 70 persons were hospitalized with storm injuries, and at least 61 spent a second night in hospitals. Another 260 persons received outpatient treatment at hospitals.

Fifteen deaths occurred in Topeka — hardest hit of several towns struck by tornadoes in a brief span Wednesday night.

Too Much Too Soon

Gov. Knowles Turns Down Raise For Wisconsin State Legislators

MADISON (AP) — State legislators, stung by public criticism and Gov. Warren P. Knowles dissent, backed away Thursday from the pay raise they voted themselves last week.

The Republican chief executive said he would strike from the pay increase bill the $9,600 a year minimum salary award and the $2,450 bonus proposed for 17 legislative leaders.

Assemblymen and senators now are paid $5,400 a year.

Knowles said the line veto would leave intact legislation that allows the Bureau of Personnel and the Joint Finance Committee to establish a new pay level.

The procedure opens the door to another bid for higher salaries but the second attempt would have to be made in open debate at public hearings.

"Our legislative process requires that matters of public concern and particularly matters affecting pocketbook issues be subject to public scrutiny," Knowles said in a statement explaining his action.

The lawmakers attached their pay increase to a bill granting the personnel bureau and the joint Finance Committee authority to set new pay levels for state department heads.

The Assembly then passed the bill with less than five minutes of talk. Senate debate took less than an hour.

Knowles said he was "in sympathy" with the legislators' request for more pay.

"At the current level of salary it is almost impossible to serve as a legislator without some other source of income to support your families and maintain your financial responsibility," he told the lawmakers.

One man was killed about 20 miles northeast of Topeka.

Many persons made offers of temporary housing for the homeless.

The Salvation Army and Red Cross operated field kitchens around the city to feed the homeless, and rescue and repair personnel rushed in from other cities.

President Johnson telephoned regrets of the nation and offered aid.

Gov. William Avery and officials of the federal Office of Emergency Planning ordered damage estimates which could lead to federal disaster grants for stricken areas.

2 Battalions Airlifted to Help Fight

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. paratroopers battled a stubborn, dug-in North Vietnamese force for the fourth day in the central highlands today, while Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government sent 400 Vietnamese riot policemen into the northern Buddhist stronghold of Hue.

Helicopters lifted at least two battalions of American and Vietnamese troops into the fierce action 280 miles north of Saigon. Battlefield reports indicated the Americans may be fighting as many as two regiments — some 1,800 men — of North Vietnamese regulars, although the enemy force earlier was estimated at 900 men.

Heavy fighting was reported continuing late into the day.

An American military spokesman said 239 North Vietnamese had been killed in the fighting, which began before dawn Tuesday with a Communist attack on a small U.S. encampment. But the spokesman added: "The count undoubtedly will go much higher. Those people up there are more interested in killing North Vietnamese than in counting bodies."

Losses Light

U.S. losses were reported light overall, but one platoon was badly mauled.

U.S. planes had flown 167 sorties so far in the battle, which erupted anew Thursday night in the dense jungles of Kontum province 280 miles north of Saigon. Pitted against units of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade, as it prowled Communist infiltration routes near the Laotian border, were an estimated 900 North Vietnamese.

Fighting was reported heavy throughout the day and was still going on late this afternoon, the spokesman reported.

The size and determination of the enemy indicated the Communists might be moving to the offensive again after waiting patiently for the Buddhists to be

As Father Answers Phone

Baby fatally hurt in fall from bathinette

LITTLE CHUTE — Six-months-old Brian James Giles died Thursday evening shortly after he fell from a bathinette where his father, Edward, left him while he went to answer the telephone.

The call turned out to be a wrong number.

The infant died of a severe brain concussion. Giles was staying with his son, in their home at 121 W. Lincoln St., while the mother was working, according to Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps.

Changing Diaper

Giles told Kemps he was changing the baby's diaper in the bedroom about 6:30 p.m. when the telephone rang in the living room. Giles said the baby was crying at the time.

Fell 34 Inches

Kemps, who was assisted in his investigation by Little Chute police, said the infant fell 34 inches from the bathinette to the bedroom floor.

The body was released to the Verkuilen Funeral Home, Little Chute.

Airlift From Cuba Resumes After Alma

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The refugee airlift from Cuba, interrupted by Hurricane Alma, resumes Monday.

The airlift plane flew to New Orleans Tuesday, itself a refugee—from the hurricane zone.

Normally two planeloads of Cubans—about 200—arrive every weekday. More than two-thirds of them fly on to other U.S. cities. Some 25,000 have been airlifted from Cuba since Dec. 1.

King Leaves March but Will Return if Needed

COMO, Miss. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., whose presence has been a magnet to the Negroes marching through Mississippi, was gone from the head of the line today. But he promised to return immediately if the demonstration loses any impetus.

James H. Meredith, who originated the "march against fear" Sunday and was wounded by birdshot and hospitalized the next day — said in New York he will be on the road again June 16 if his doctor permits. A civil rights group in Baltimore said it would join, too, after a rally Sunday.

"It is my belief from the warm reception received along the road, both in Tennessee and Mississippi, that my walk may have done something to alleviate the heavy burden of fear which rests upon Mississippi Negroes," Meredith said in a statement read to newsmen by a minister.

Former Director

James Farmer, former director of the Congress of Racial Equality who walked with the group Thursday, told the 300 or more who participated:

"If the blood of James Meredith is not to be wasted, every Negro that can put one foot in front of another and lift a hand to a pen must register and vote."

Meredith, 33, had covered 27 miles on the 225-mile walk from Memphis to Jackson, Miss., when he was shot near Hernando. He was trying to show that if a controversial Negro could walk unmolested down a Mississippi highway, other Negroes should not fear to register as voters.

The man charged with shooting Meredith, Aubrey James

Norvell, 40, of Memphis, still is director of CORE, flew to New York after speaking Thursday night at a church meeting in Memphis. King left earlier for Chicago.

Deaths of Two From Valley Hike Road Toll

Neenah Youth, Clintonville Girl Killed in Crashes

Deaths of a 19-year-old Clintonville girl and a 17-year-old Neenah boy in other areas of the state have raised Wisconsin's 1966 traffic toll to 362, compared with 359 a year ago.

Dead are:

David N. Wilz, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Wilz, 1480 Park St., Neenah, and Pamela Danner, 19 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Danner, 156 S. Main St., Clintonville.

Miss Danner was killed shortly before noon Thursday in a collision of the sports car she was driving and a delivery truck owned by the Milwaukee

Journal. The crash occurred at the intersection of State 100 and W. National Avenue, in suburban West Allis.

The girl was an honor student at Clintonville High School where she graduated in 1965. Miss Danner had just completed her freshmen year at Stout State University in Menomonee, Wis.

Marinette County

Wilz was killed about 8:30 p.m. Thursday, when the car he was driving left Marinette County Highway C and rolled over about 15 miles east of Wabeno.

A passenger in the car, John Dennis, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dennis, 1020 Bayview Road, Neenah, is in fair condition at Marinette General Hospital with possible internal injuries.

Wilz and Dennis, along with three other youths, had been vacationing at the Simon Wilz cabin, near Wabeno, and had gone into the town to buy paint. They were returning to the cabin when the car, owned by Lloyd Wilz, a brother of the victim, went out of control on a rough stretch of road.

Lloyd Wilz, driving another car, and the two other youths, riding motorcycles, were ahead of David Wilz when the accident occurred. They did not know about the crash until they went back to look for the missing boys and found the wrecked car.

Earth, Space Travel in Week's News

Patrick Nugent and Tiancee Luci Johnson saw eye to eye as they talked on the south lawn of the White House Tuesday during one of the outdoor receptions at the executive mansion. The couple, to be married Aug. 6, has been requested by the city of Hiroshima, Japan, to change their wedding date because of the first atom bomb's having been dropped on that date. Below the President and Mrs. Johnson were just proud parents as daughter Lynda was graduated with honors from the University of Texas, Austin. Lynda's beau, George Hamilton, accompanied her to the ceremony.

Little Tracy Cernan, 3, was all smiles as she tried to say hello to her globe-circling daddy whirling around the earth in Gemini 9. The conversation was make-believe. It takes more than a walkie-talkie. At right, Nancy Morrison, 18, Melvin, Mich., and Carol Walker, 19, Livonia, Mich., set out for a 900-mile horse-back trip from Michigan to Nebraska. The 45-day trip has been a lifelong ambition for Carol, who has cousins in Hazard, Neb. Carol read about it and asked to go along.

A couple of astronauts' lady-folk were earthbound but happy this week as Mrs. Eugene Cernan and daughter Tracy, 3, and Mrs. Thomas P. Stafford and daughters, Dionne, 12, and Karin, 8, kept track of the successful launch from Cape Kennedy, followed the walk in space and then thrilled to the safe return. Both families live near the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, Texas.

The Lyndon Johnsons were in Austin, Texas, last weekend for graduation ceremonies at which daughter Lynda received a bachelor of arts degree, with honors, from the University of Texas. Actor George Hamilton accompanied Miss Johnson to commencement.

Barbara Streisand in London for a performance of "Funny Girl" received the first annual award presented by a brewery for outstanding contributions by Americans to the British Theater. Her prize: an engraved pewter tankard.

Londoners too sophisticated to bat an eyelash barely blinked when a 22-year-old model, Carol Chivers, showed up for her wedding at fashionable St. Mary's the Bolton's Church wearing ankle-length silk pants and a matching high-buttoned coat slashed almost to her waist. Her sister, Marilyn, 19, wore white lace shorts under a short purple tunic as she carried out bride-maid's duties.

It was wedding week at the service academies. The first of 58 couples to be married in arch of swords was raised in salute for all happy brides and bridegrooms.

Wedding bells sounded for actress Tammy Grimes and actor Jeremy Slate last weekend as they said their marriage promises at the home of producer William Dozier in Beverly Hills. The couple is honeymooning at Carmel and Big Sur in northern California.

Women were again on the go. Geraldine Chaplin, daughter of Charlie and Oona, stopped at a Dutch airport en route from Paris to Tokyo and indulged in the old Dutch tradition of nibbling on a well-cleaned fresh herring.

Mrs. John Kennedy and her two children and the two youngsters of sister-in-law Mrs. Patricia Lawford arrived in Honolulu to spend a month's vacation at the Dom-inick summer house. Workmen spent a week sprucing up the yard and lush tropical vegetation before their arrival.

Cesa 8 to Receive $215,000 Grant for Reading Program

Federal Office of Education
Okays Mobile Laboratory

WASHINGTON — A federal grant of $215,000 to the Cooperative Educational Service Agency (CESA) 8 has been approved by the U.S. Office of Education for a mobile reading program, Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Green Bay) has been informed.

Application for funds for the pilot mobile diagnostic reading laboratory for the 17 districts in CESA 8 was made in 1965.

According to Kenneth Poppy, coordinator of CESA 8, the project will attempt to provide an innovative and exemplary eye testing and remedial reading program through the development of the unit which will test every student, third through

To Test Children
It is proposed to test each referred child for any physical impairment by the use of various equipment.

A battery of reading diagnostic tests will be administered and evaluated by psychometrists.

Clerical workers will do the necessary clerical work in the administration of the project; a school psychologist will be employed to evaluate and make recommendations on referrals where emotional problems may be a deterrent to a student reading to his capacity.

A school social worker would be employed to work with the home and community.

Follow-Up Study

A follow-up study of each student participant will be conducted by a qualified psychometrist and guidance counselors two years after completion of the formal specialized reading program in an attempt to determine:

—status of reading ability after being away from a structured remedial program for two years.

—academic progress in school.

—social status or adjustment to life and school life.

—number of school drop-outs and reasons.

The funds have been granted under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 which provides for three educational functions. These are: to provide services not now available; to raise the quality of education services already offered and to stimulate and assist in the development and establishment of exemplary programs to serve as models for regular school programs.

Senior division area persons are Steve Van Handle, Appleton, piano solo; Linda Horins, Appleton, Vocalist; Janet De Wall, Appleton, piano solo; Bonnie Ballut, Terry Fuller, Maureene Kennedy, Sue Schmank, Judy Kins and Kathy Kuntz an Appleton vocal group.

The contest is open to the public. An admission fee will be charged.

Consider Revision Of County Police

Sgt. Lowell Veitch Presents
Board Reorganizational Plan

Revision of the Outagamie County traffic police organizational structure to accommodate 24 hour patrol and the addition of several new men in recent months, received the attention this morning of the county board's law enforcement committee.

Discussion came after Sgt. Lowell Veitch, acting head of the traffic department, submitted an organizational chart he had prepared.

According to Veitch's chart, the traffic department would be headed by a captain, who Veitch said he hoped would not be tied to a desk to the extent that he lose contact with the working operations of his men.

Second in command would be a sergeant who Veitch proposed would work days and would have duties that would include courts and records officer, partial command over those lower in the organization, and supervising maintenance of the squad cars.

Next on Veitch's chart were three "line sergeant" positions. The line sergeants, Veitch said, would supervise the work of patrolmen under them on each of three shifts.

The proposal was scheduled to receive further consideration at the afternoon session.

Also scheduled for further consideration later was a proposal that a seventh car be added to the traffic department.

No Replacements

Law enforcement committee members were critical of the fact that one or more cars often are tied up for repairs or general maintenance work, often with no replacement police vehicles available.

Sylvester Esler, county board chairman, suggested that the committee waste no time in requesting the county board to purchase another squad car.

On a suggestion by Sheriff Calvin Spice, the committee promised study on the possibility of establishing another gasoline station for county squad cars at a point closer to Appleton.

The county now has a contract with Van Zeeland DX Service near Little Chute, where squad cars must travel for gasoline.

Spice was critical of having to travel to Little Chute to buy gasoline for a trip to points south of Appleton. He said the station is about eight miles from the courthouse.

Alvin Woehler, county executive secretary, told the committee the miles police personnel have to drive to get gasoline are erasing the savings made in the purchase price.

Fund Request for Branch Campus Expected Monday

$100,000 Project

State Odd Fellows Seek Convention Okay for Waupaca Youth Camp

WAUPACA — Construction on a camp six miles south of here softball, shuffleboard and volleyball constructed.

192 youngsters will begin this summer, if the state Odd Fellows convention approves camp plans.

The convention is scheduled at Wisconsin Rapids next week.

Clarence Arendt, Wisconsin Rapids, chairman of the camp nature of the camp would be committee's board of directors, stressed, according to Arendt, will ask for authorization to spend from $75,000 to $100,000 for buildings and improvements on the 17-acre site the group the lodge owns on Goose Neck and McClean's lakes.

Everything would be built to accommodate 192 children, except the number of cabins.

Arendt said the camp would open with a capacity of 96 children, which would be increased to 192 as soon as funds are available.

The committee was authorized last year to begin preparing definite plans.

It will propose to the convention that six cabins, plus other facilities, be constructed.

House 18

The frame structures each would house 18 children, plus two counselors. A bathhouse, would provide restroom facilities for the complex of dorms.

A diningroom-assembly hall, including a kitchen, would be the largest building with a seating capacity of 200.

Also proposed are a caretaker's home, a canteen, and an administration building, which would include nurses' quarters and a man of the camp operations committee.

Two Hikes

The land is located between the two lakes, with the main portion of the waterfront on Gooseneck Lake.

The lake has a natural incline, but some landscaping would be necessary to prepare a swimming beach, Arendt said there is very good fishing in both lakes.

The property is 90 per cent wooded and consists of sandy and rolling hills.

Barabon, are professional engineers for the project. The land was purchased in 1957 by the Odd Fellows, who have been clearing it by work crews since.

Details of the camp program plan to spend part of the summer's home, a canteen, and an administration building, which Art Melinski, Schofield, chairman of the camp operations committee.

103 Soap Box Derby Cars Undergo Final Inspection

Fox Cities Soap Box Derby Shopping Center starting at 6 drivers have sold as many as 150 to 200 buttons individually.

The buttons, which cost 50 cents apiece, help to pay expenses for the stay of the champion's parents in Akron during the national competition, and for some of the local prizes.

A total of 103 cars, including a late entry, are currently being stored in the garage, in comparison with 68 last year.

Although the gravity-propelled vehicles are ready to race today, many activities will occur before the barrier drops on the starting ramp Sunday afternoon and the first cars speed down the W. College Avenue track.

The drivers will invade College Avenue and the Valley Fair

Lemberg reported the loss to police about 7:15 p.m. Thursday. He said the money and clip were taken from a dresser in his house.

Northeastern, Southeastern University Sites Seek Money For Initial Planning Program

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A request for the release of the first actual funds for the planning of two new branch campuses of the University of Wisconsin to serve northeastern and southeastern Wisconsin will go before the State Building Commission at a meeting here Monday afternoon.

The commission will be asked, in a message from the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education (CHE) supporting a request from the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents, to make available funds from the $400,000 preliminary appropriation voted by the Legislature several months ago.

Harry K. Spindler of the CCH staff said the request won't suggest a division of the appropriation, but that it is assumed the commission will divide it equally for use in planning the campuses suggested for locations in Kenosha County and at the Shorwood site on the east side of Green Bay.

Presumably the building commission will assign the $200,000

Schueler was born in the Town of Center Jan. 6, 1903. He lived in Appleton until 1941 when he purchased a cheese factory in Larsen which he operated until 1961. He was currently employed at the Larsen Co-Op.

Besides his town duties he was treasurer of the Wolf River Quality Association.

He was a member of the St. Mary Holy Name Society, Winchester, past member of the Winneconne school board and a past officer of the Appleton United Christian Travelers.

Survivors are his widow, four sons, four brothers and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at Mueller Funeral Chapel, Winneconne, the Rev. Victor Kaudy will officiate. Burial will be in the Winneconne Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. Sunday where the rosary will be prayed at 8 p.m.

Menasha Cyclist Hurt In Car-Bike Collision Tuesday Afternoon

MENASHA — Gary Hawley, 16, 1 Main St., was taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital in a Neenah fire department ambulance after he complained of a leg bruise resulting when his motorcycle and a car collided Tuesday.

Police said he was going north on Washington St. at River Street and was being followed by an auto driven by Rodney Hanchett, 25, 357 Broad St. shortly after noon when the car struck the rear of the motorcycle.

Police estimated damages at $125 to the cycle and $25 to the car.

Capt. Franklin Fahrenkrug, Menasha Police Veteran, Dies

MENASHA — Capt. Franklin C. Fahrenkrug, 53, who joined the police force 29 years ago, died suddenly today of an apparent heart attack.

He became ill at the police station and asked to be driven to his doctor's office. A patrolman rushed him instead in a squad car to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital, where he died after more than an hour of emergency treatment. He was admitted at 9:15 a.m. and died at 10:33.

Capt. Fahrenkrug joined the police department June 16, 1937, as a patrolman. He became the department's first records clerk May 28, 1948, and was promoted to sergeant Feb. 27, 1956 and to captain Nov. 19, 1959.

For 4½ years, from 1943 to 1948, he served in the military police, attaining the rank of first lieutenant. He saw service in the Aleutian Islands. He joined the Army Reserve in August, 1948, rose to the rank of captain and in 1955 was named provost marshal of the then new 84th Division and was made commander of the 84th Division military police.

He had since retired from the reserve. Capt. Fahrenkrug lived with his mother, Mrs. Frances Fahrenkrug, 198 Lush St. Survivors besides the mother include two children.

Funeral arrangements were indefinite late this morning.

Permanent Court Might Be in Neenah

OSHKOSH — Neenah and Menasha will need a full-time court within the next few years and the proposed municipal building in Neenah is given the nod as the likely location.

So members of the Winnebago County Board Judiciary Committee were told as they met Thursday night with two county judges in an attempt to solve some of the over-crowding problems at the courthouse in Oshkosh.

Decided for sure was that a recommendation be made to the board's building committee regarding a reshuffling of desks and court facilities on the second floor.

Suggested were that County Court Branch 2, presided over by Judge James G. Sarres, be moved from the old juvenile obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office on the second floor into the presential Street until 9 p.m. Friday office space of Branch 2. The and from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. office space occupied by four secretarial workers, an intake worker and the court reporter, would move to the present courtroom, except for the intake worker, who would occupy an alcove between the hall and Judge James V. Sitter's quarters.

Tickets for the 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. performances can be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office on Friday and from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday.

Circus fans are reminded the parade will begin at 12:30 p.m. Saturday on Torrey Street to Main Street and out S. Commercial Street to the grounds. The Chamber of Commerce has obtained an old time callopie for the good of circus sound.

Tickets for the 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. performances can be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce office on Friday and from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday.

Expect Antitrust Ruling On Baseball From State Supreme Court in July

Associated Press Sports Writer
MADISON Wis. AP — The state Supreme Court is expected to rule on the antitrust exemption for baseball in July.

The high court is expected to rule in early July on the National League's appeal of a circuit court decision finding the game in violation of Wisconsin antitrust law for stripping Milwaukee of its only major league team. The court heard the appeal Thursday.

The decision by Circuit Court Judge Elmer W. Hall Jr. directed the return of the Milwaukee Braves to Milwaukee this season unless the Wisconsin city is provided with a 1967 expansion team. The order was suspended pending review by the seven-member State Supreme Court.

Oratorical Paths
The black-haired justice sat silently for the most part as attorneys tried to make their case for the return of the team. He did not interrupt until the end of the hearing.

Willard S. Stafford, special counsel for Wisconsin, began his argument by saying that baseball is a business and that the state has no authority to interfere with it.

Stafford thundered that baseball's principal defense is that this court has no jurisdiction over it. He said that the state's interest in the game is purely economic.

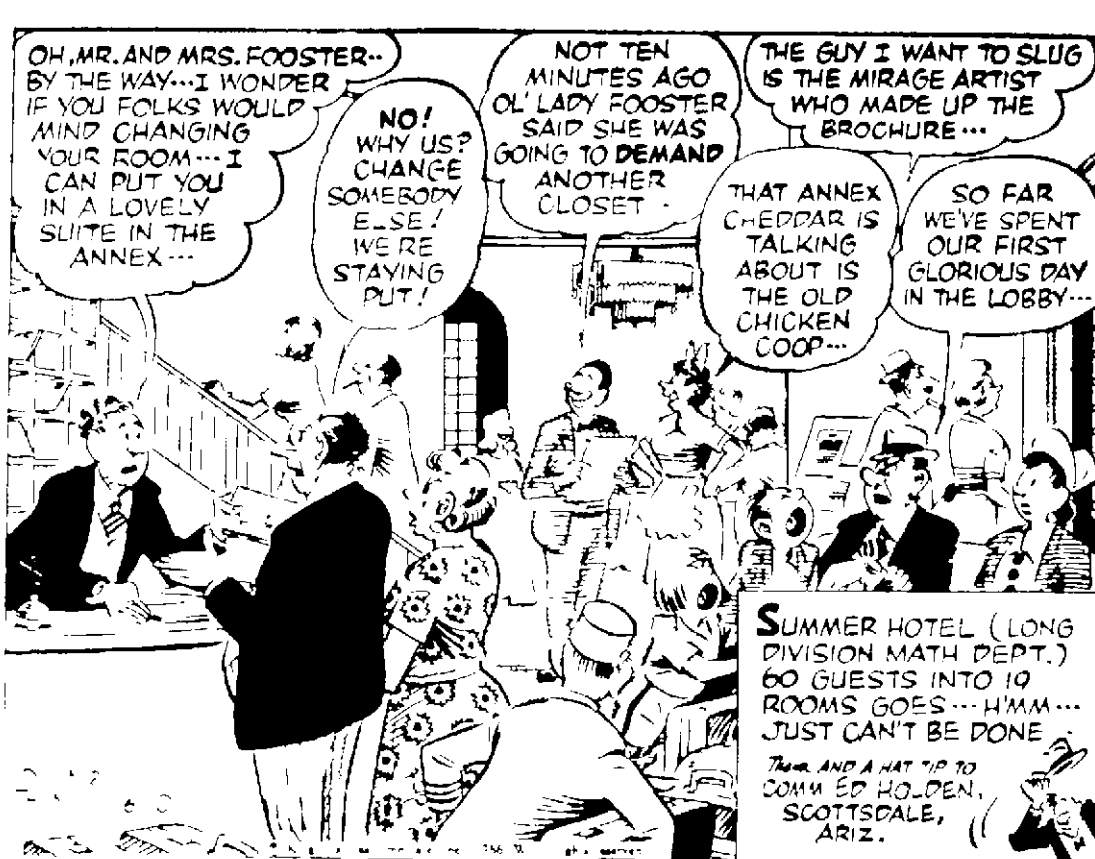

Inherently Local
Yet Stafford continued in 1953 baseball attorneys argued before the U.S. Supreme Court that baseball did not come under federal antitrust law because the game of baseball is inherently local.

The game has not changed since 1953, Stafford said, the only change is that the same lawyers are in a different courtroom.

Stafford was interrupted by Chief Justice George Curtis who noted pointedly that the U.S. Supreme Court in a 1952 case had suggested that Congress enact laws regulating baseball.

But how could Congress

5 Twins Blast Homers in Same Inning

In the sixth with his foot on the home plate, the Twins' pitcher started the inning with a two-run shot off Cal Hunter that put the Twins ahead 4-1.

Paul Linblad, Linblad's brother, followed with a home run. Then came the home run of the Twins' pitcher, who was batting in the bottom of the sixth.

Not coming short back Justice F. Harold Hallows came back.

Earlier in the morning, Paul Linblad's attorney for the Twins, Edward J. Kane, was expected to make his case for the return of the team.

Stafford was interrupted by Chief Justice George Curtis who noted pointedly that the U.S. Supreme Court in a 1952 case had suggested that Congress enact laws regulating baseball.

HOME PROJECTS ARE EASY AND FUN TO DO WITH SAKRETE CONCRETE AND MORTAR MIXES

You can make your back yard the envy of the neighborhood. Have a patio, terrace walk, lawn benches and flower bed edging around an outdoor grill. Fun to do and economical too. With Sakrete... a mix for every type of job.

IT'S EASY TO SET POSTS IN CONCRETE

Wood or metal posts for outdoor lights, swings, gates or fences can be anchored securely with SAKRETE CONCRETE MIX, a scientific blend of sand, gravel and cement. Just add water. No forms needed. So easy anyone can use it. At hardware, lumber and building supply dealers.

- Insist on SAKRETE mix because:
- 1. Electronic scales would weigh each ingredient for each bag (no every bag is identical)
- 2. Each bag is carefully mixed for uniformity. Important if only part of bag is used.
- 3. Special bag keeps ingredients fresh for over a year without hardening.

For thin-layer concrete repairs, use FAR-GO VINYL CONCRETE MIX. Bonds to concrete or masonry by itself. Add only water. Use it to resurface concrete floors, walks, steps, patios... to level tilted slabs. Feather-edges perfectly. 10 lb. and 40 lb. bags.

Hortonville Farmer Looks to ...

... Conservation on Retirement Eve

Young Farmer's Interest in Conservation In 1921 to Pay Dividends in Retirement

Ed Fulcer Develops Green Park Trout Ponds, Haven For Wildlife at Hortonville

BY PAT DUFFEY
Post-Crescent Farm Editor

HORTONVILLE — In 1921 a young farmer invested in some low swampland near here, rode out the tough depression and continued interest in conservation as a hobby.

Today, Ed Fulcer is recognized as one of Outagamie County's outstanding farmers from his conservation activities. At 64 he is on the verge of retirement from active farming (he still milks a herd of 17 dairy cattle) and hopes to devote his time to a new conservation enterprise — the Green Park trout ponds.

The series of seven ponds, the first of which were constructed last July and the latest this spring, is part of a 65-acre recreation tract he has been developing through the years.

Fish Hatchery

Fulcer has been licensed by the Wisconsin Conservation Department to operate a fish hatchery. The tiny trout are purchased from the department and then grown under restricted pond conditions. As they advance in size the fish graduate to the appropriate upper level pond.

Fulcer's ponds are carved from the declining edge of a limestone rock shelf which predominates in the area between Hortonville and New London. He recently dug a new pond to raise minnows.

An independent source of water is essential to insure the health of the fish and guard against possible pollution. Fulcer's ponds are fed by clear water from a nearby well and natural springs.

Ice House

This year Fulcer plans to construct an ice house in which fish caught by patrons could be kept fresh. A park area for picnicking north of the ponds also is planned.

The ponds receive no surface drainage because of careful diking engineered by the Soil Conservation Service (SCS).

Fulcer owns almost 800 acres of land, much of it in marsh condition and bounding portions of the Wolf River. He hopes to derive future income from the ponds and continued trapping. Last year he trapped more than 500 muskrats.

With SCS assistance, Fulcer has dug a main channel in his wildlife haven to connect with the marshland. Both springs and water from the Wolf keep up the level to accommodate wildlife. In addition lateral channels extend out to provide moisture to a larger area. One of the laterals connects with the Black Otter Creek near Hortonville.

Clean Water

Wild rice abounds in the area. Millet and rye will be planted as a further inducement to the wildlife. Without clean water or feed the animals would depart for more fruitful areas.

Interest in Conservation has been growing in the Fox Valley. Ed Fulcer at Hortonville has his hands full with a large wildlife haven (above) and new Green Park trout ponds shown on Page 1 of this week's Country Life. Neighborhood boys look enviously as taunting trout scramble for bits of feed tossed to them. Fresh water as found in a nearby creek is essential for the fish, just as much as removing natural algae growths which rob available oxygen. (Post-Crescent Photos by Pat Duffey) swamp and transported it to northern Wisconsin where he traded it for whatever he could reasonably get. A cord of good maple wood sold for $2. He made a cutting machine from a four cylinder Chrysler engine and used it to cut trees in the marsh. There was a market for it then, he recalls, unlike today. He sold wood for 85 cents a cord. Fulcer lost his herd of cattle during the depression but managed to save his four big horses and farm.

Even though Fulcer is approaching retirement from active farming, he still expresses strong sentiment for conserving the natural resources placed under his stewardship. His continual efforts in this regard have earned him a spot among the ranks of Outagamie County's outstanding farmers.

He has accumulated land over a period of years, purchasing parcels whenever they were available. Fulcer recalls he lost a lot of land during the depression, but reaped what he could from his marshland.

Milk was selling for 65 cents per hundred, eggs at 8 cents per dozen and 1½ cents per pound for the average 1,000 pound cow.

During the winter he cut tons of marsh hay from the

Day Care Center Nets $285 From Calumet Leaders

CHILTON — Junior leaders of Calumet County recently presented a check of $285.90 to the board of directors of the Day Care Center representing proceeds from the bake sale held May 20 throughout the county.

The sale was sponsored by the 4-H members in the junior leadership project. Cooperation of help and food for the sale was received from nearly every 4-H club and family in the county. The entire affair was planned and executed by the youth with the help from a parent or leader requested in a few cases.

The fund raising to help the mental retardation program was just one of many community service projects undertaken by the junior leaders. They also promote and assist with safety and cleanup campaigns, the citizenship short course, conservation activities, June dairy month promotions and the international exchange program to name a few.

Amherst FFA Officers Selected

AMHERST — Melvin Glodowski will serve as president of the Amherst chapter of Future Farmers of America (FFA) for the coming school year.

Other officers are Sam Hansen, vice-president; Jerry Rzentkowski, secretary; Michael Paloka, treasurer; Dean Onan, reporter; and Richard Konkol, sentinel. Seven members of the chapter will be going on the annual FFA trip this year to Tomahawk.

Members must serve as a chapter officer or attend 80 percent of the meeting to be eligible to take part in the excursion. Members going this year are Richard Berberg, Gary Domkowski, Tim Hansen, Randy Konkol, Ronnie Konkol, Donald Paloka and James Sutheimer.

Wautoma Employment Office Seeks Temporary Laborers

WAUTOMA — The local Employment Service office is out-contacting the Wautoma office, really attempting to find them. Most of the cucumber growers report planting is about 75 to 100 workers. They must be per cent completed. Last week available on a temporary basis ends rainfall was a welcomed relief from dry conditions.

Any grower within commuting distance having use for any of workers currently in the area.

approximately 250 of them from out of state workers. More out of state workers are coming in daily.

Labor bulletins received from other states indicate that cold weather earlier in the spring has delayed or killed some acreage in the South and in the East. Sugar beets in the Red Valley are expected to be a little behind schedule.

No labor shortage exists for harvesting, but some states report need of year round farm hands.

Camp Planners Confer June 17

CHILTON — The summer 4-H camp committee will meet Monday evening, June 17, in Appleton for final camp programming. Herb Sims, camp conservationist, will visit the camp grounds Thursday along with other staff members and report to the committee Monday.

Bus drivers, buses, menus and some of the program content will be arranged at the meeting. June 17 also will meet with about 100 campers will attend them each of the two three-day camps June 26-29, June 29-July 2.

Cool, Dry Weather Stalls Hay Growth

Residue Carryover From Last Year Affecting New Oat Crop

Cool dry weather during much of the past week has stalled crop growth particularly for hay, according to farm reporters and county agents throughout the state.

While hayfields are generally in good to excellent condition the stand is short and budding has not begun, many farmers regard the season as being from one to three weeks late. Little having has been done mostly by those with empty mows who would rather cut short than buy.

On scattered farms around the state there has been some greenchopping often on poor fields intended for plowing up and reseeded to sorghum sudan. Most alfalfa showing winter kill or heaving is being put into this emergency forage.

Most Corn In

Corn is practically all in though some planting is still being done in eastern counties where wet ground during late May slowed the work. Early corn is up well in south and east some fields have had their first cultivation sometimes a blind one.

In the central and western districts more reliance is put on there are stones to be picked spraying. The carryover of atrazine in the soil from last year's spraying is frequently growth is more generous this having a more than usual year than usual.

harmful effect on oats, in some localities it has become a real problem. As a major weed control spraying this year is expected to cover 45 per cent of the corn acreage.

Early canner crops peas and corn, are generally thrifty in most canner areas there is some planting going on. Soy beans are largely in on the largest acreage ever. Fruit orchards in all of the major commercial districts have had excellent pollination weather.

Good Pasture

Pasture remains in good condition though slow except where fertilized. Cattle are generally out and getting perhaps 80 per cent of their roughage needs from pasture. Soil moisture at plow depth is somewhat short in northern central and western districts.

At lower levels moisture is adequate. Without the precipitation from last fall and winter 1966 would be starting off in a drought situation similar to that of the two previous years. Even so the irrigation systems of the central counties are starting to sprinkle.

On farms where planting is done and hay is being waited on, there is still fencing, fishing and fixing machinery. While manure piles are generally gone spraying. The carryover of atrazine in the soil from last year's spraying is frequently growth is more generous this having a more than usual year than usual.

Wranglers Plan Horse Show At Mackville

Twenty Events Set For June 26 at Hilltop Stables

MACKVILLE — The second annual Wranglers Horse Show will be June 26 at the Hilltop Stables near here. Twenty events will be featured.

Trophies and ribbons will be awarded to top riders in each class. The Hilltop Stables are located north of Appleton on State 47 and then east on the town road.

Last meeting of the club prior to the show will be 9 p.m. June 18 at the Art Hooyman residence. Prospective members are welcome.

Club Directors

Directors of the club are Art Hooyman, Melvin L. Bond, Sylvan Bodoh and Beatie Bodoh.

Club officers are Gordon Haberland, president; Carlyle Reech, vice president; Mrs. Jerry Nichodem, secretary; Leonard Bodoh, treasurer; Carl Lee Garvey, reporter.

Reech will be show chairman and Jim Martin show judge.

Junior 4-H Leaders Plan Cheese Derby

CHILTON — Officers of the Junior Leaders Association will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Darbov Club. Chairmen of committees planning the dance for each of the two three-day camps June 26-29, June 29-July 2, also will meet with them.

Plans for the dance, the cheese derby, June 23, and the summer activities will be made.

Chilton Seeks FFA Honors

Chapter Delegates
Named to Meeting
At Green Lake

CHILTON Plans are now complete by the high school Future Farmers of America (FFA) chapter to attend the state FFA convention at Green Lake on the American Baptist Assembly grounds June 13-15.

The chapter will have two candidates for the Wisconsin Farmer Degree at the convention. They are DuWayne Klessig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Klessig, and Raymond Hoerth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoerth. The chapter is limited to two candidates by member ship quotas as set up by the state association.

Also attending from the chapter will be two delegates to the delegate assembly. They are Ronald Hilmann and Gordon Casch. The boys will take part in the transaction of business by the state association.

The chapter also has applied for the superior chapter award of achievement.

Norman Pautz, chapter adviser, will accompany the group to the convention.

Winnebago Dairymen Hear 4-Point Program To Improve Operation

NEENAH — Prof. James Crowley, University of Wisconsin extension dairyman, outlined a four-point program for successful dairy farming at the annual twilight meeting Monday night of the Winnebago County Holstein Breeders Association.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. George C. Dobberke at their Dobberke Acres farm, rural Neenah. More than 200 attended. Crowley said the main ingredients were desire coupled with interest and a goal on what a dairy herd should produce plus continuing education.

Reading dairy periodicals, publications from the UW College of Agriculture and participation in educational meetings were all part of helping the dairymen do his best job, Crowley said.

He also advocated proper mating of sires in the dairy herd, culling out producers by learning the productive ability of individual cows and a good feed and management program.

Dobberke has a herd of 70 dairy animals, 29 of which are purebred, mostly heifers. His herd average last year was 15,102 pounds of milk and 547 pounds of butterfat based on a standard testing program with the Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

Scoring highest in the dairy cattle judging contest for the men were Willard Moeri, Winnebago, Howard Kossel and Eugene Anderson, both of Oshkosh, and Mrs. Harold Miller, Neenah; Mrs. Ellen Lee, Omro, and Mrs. Carl Lierman, Winnebago, in the women's division.

Top scorer in the junior division was Carl Kuchenbecker, a student in the Winnebago High School vocational-agriculture program. Kuchenbecker plus Dennis Foote, Omro, and Howard Lee, Oshkosh, received training preparatory to an area 4-H judging program scheduled for Kewaunee County later this month. Linda Christensen, Oshkosh, was the top scoring junior girl.

Remainder of the program was in the Vindland Town fire hall. Louis Jensen, Oshkosh, president of the association was program chairman.

Others appearing on the program were Zane Atkins, Fort Atkinson, fieldman for the National Holstein-Friesian Association; Margret Boss, Winnebago County Dairy Queen; Willard Gums, Shawano, official judge of the contest, and Frank Meyer, Shawano, Consolidated Badger Co-op, who discussed the present milk market order situation and how it affects the Grade A market to which Dobberkes market their milk.

4-H Club Working On Horse Project

ROYALTON — The Royalton Riverview 4-H Club members have begun work on their horse project. They have attended two Waupaca County meetings at Manawa.

Each member will have a meeting at his home.

Ayrshires Sold At Hortonville

Eight registered Ayrshires from the herd of Mike Gradi and Sons, route 2, Hortonville, recently were sold to five Fox Valley dairymen, according to the Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Brandon, Vt.

New owners are Vernon Baehman, Emil Ulke, and David Nichols, all of route 2, Hortonville; Ed Ellenbecker, route 1, Appleton, and Edwin Kloehn, 5440 W. Wisconsin Ave., Appleton.

The transactions were recorded in the national office of the association where complete records on all purebred Ayrshires in the U.S. have been maintained since 1875.

Dairy Month Posters Judged

Six members of the Ellington 4-H club were judged to have the best dairy month posters.

Younger winners are Sheri Hoffman, Mary Kettner, Dennis Kettner and Jan Van Camp. Older winners are Ralph Zerbe and Tom Van Camp.

Marianne Zerbe and Dixie Johnson were placed in charge

Warmth, Color in Garden

Proper Care Keeps Plants Healthy

The first flowers to appear in the spring bring warmth and color to the flower garden. Proper care during the spring and summer will keep plants healthy and insure large beautiful blooms for many years to come.

Once the shoots are above the ground, put on an application of a complete fertilizer such as 5-10-5 or 10-10-10. Apply at the rate of 2 pounds per 100 square feet.

Pale green, undersized foliage is a good indication that the plants need fertilizer. Keep fertilizer at least six inches away from the plant stem.

Removing grass and weeds as soon as they appear in the flower garden also will help keep plants growing well. When weeds and grass are not present, flowering plants don't of the club's booth at the county fair. Other events discussed included the demonstration contest, favorite foods review and baseball game.

Breaking up the soil crust in flower beds will make water penetration easier and will also help conserve moisture, pre-aid soil aeration. Use a sharp knife when cutting blooms, and don't re-

Tornado Data Can Help Save Lives

Storms Cannot be Stopped, but Better Forecasts Give Warning

By LARRY PHIPPS — The United States, using facilities centered in the university buildings blasted apart like city of Norman, is in the sixth year of an ambitious study of the tornados which can spew from almost any severe thunderstorm.

Such scenes are created throughout the Midwest and Southwest each year by one of nature's most dreaded excesses — the tornados which can spew from almost any severe thunderstorm. The tools of the study are many — ground-based radar systems, balloon-borne radio control the ravages of the killer devices, visual sightings, and winds — but greater knowledge reports from airplanes which fly of the forces which generate the into, around and over the twisters' deadly vortex is saving storms more lives each year.

Piloted by Air Force Maj. R.

J. Vanden-Heuvel, one of the key pieces of this year's study is a direct reading on the winds of an especially equipped F100 Sabre Jet fighter plane from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton, Ohio.

Maj. Vanden-Heuvel is a member of the select group called "Rough Riders," men who ride the wild winds of storm systems.

Fly Into Storms — "There isn't a man in my unit who wouldn't like the chance to do what I'm doing," the youthful-looking major said. "Other pilots are ordered not to get too close to storms — they let me fly right into them."

Guided by radar-watch teams on the ground, Vanden-Heuvel makes repeated runs through developing storms.

The equipment packed into the nose and cockpit of the plane is used to collect and monitor the forces and atmospheric conditions.

The major is operating under some strict limits because a pilot last year flew into a storm bearing baseball-sized hail. Frank Dechirico, in charge of maintenance of the Rough Rider aircraft, said the bullet-proof glass on the cockpit was shattered, there were giant holes in the wings and body, and pieces of the wing cover peeled off. "I've been in combat situations, and I've never seen an airplane come back damaged like that plane," he said.

Around Storms — In addition to the Rough Rider flights, an equipment-weighted DC6 will fly around the storms to record peripheral information while a C-2 flies over the tops of the storms, which observers say can shoot up thousands of feet in a minute's time.

"No one knows how fast the circular winds in a tornado blow," said Gene Lee, coordinator of aircraft study at the lab in Norman.

The powerful winds, combined with changes in air pressure which can burst buildings as though a bomb had gone off inside, form a threat which can be avoided only by taking cover in reinforced structures, such as

Leaders Suggest New Image and Considering Girls

By EDDY GILMORE — A committee of Boy Scout leaders urged the organization today to scrap its short pants, drop the word boy from its name and take an interest in girls.

The committee's report, delivered after two and a half years of study, recommended a revolutionary streamlining of the worldwide organization founded in Britain by Lord Baden-Powell in 1908.

The 24 committee members — all of them under 45 — said in their report that the scouts need a new image.

Shorts, the report said, "are one of the most damaging aspects of our present public image. They are responsible for the scout movement being dubbed as a juvenile organization in which men drop back to boyhood level."

Sleek Trousers — They recommended mushroom-colored trousers, slightly tapered, with no cuffs.

The streamliners said scouts should wear berets instead of the old-fashioned army hats, and that the berets and shirts should be green.

They also recommended: Scouting activities should be kept to a minimum and "outmoded activities and childish games" should be abolished.

Senior and Rover Scouts should be called "Venture Scouts," a name which is "virtually meaningless" and "no storm shelters or inside strong buildings."

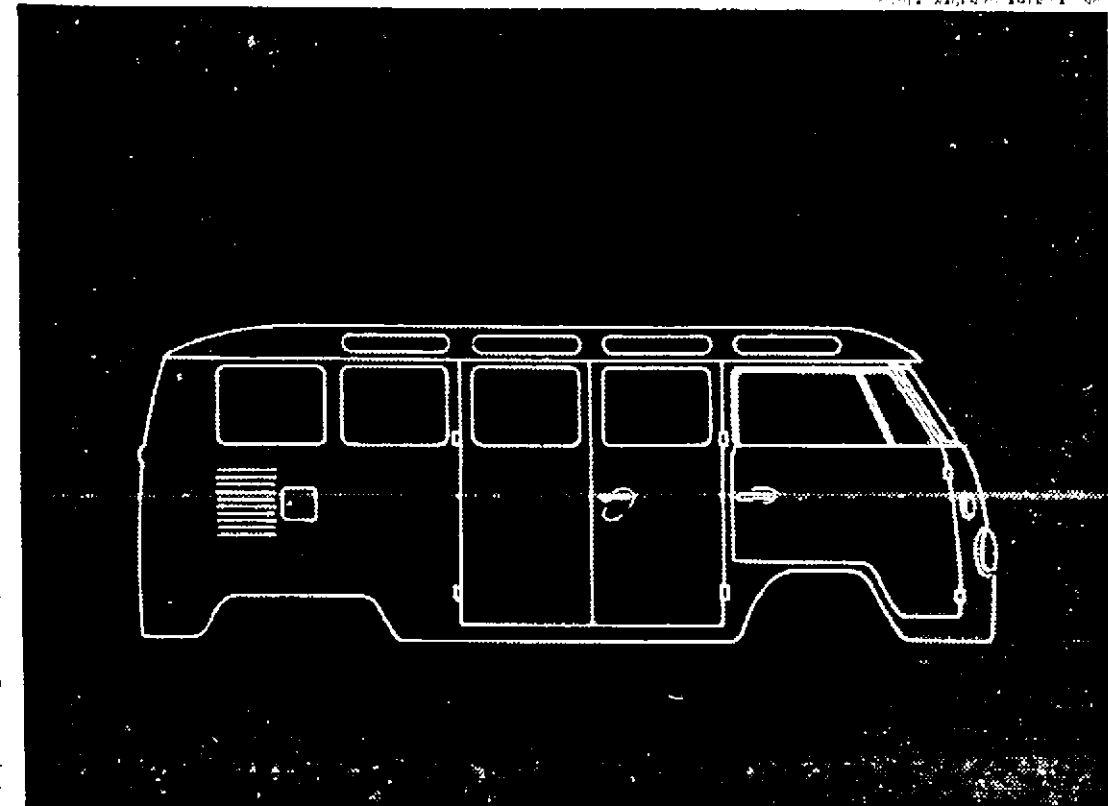

The weather experts say that their greatest hope is to increase the margin of safety for persons in the path of tornados by giving them enough advance warning to allow them to seek shelter before the storm strikes.

We started with a simple plan.

It all began with the notion that a wagon should hold a lot, and no notion about how it should look.

So when we sat down to design the VW Station Wagon we started by drawing a big box with 170 cubic feet of space.

Roughly two times the room of an ordinary station wagon.

This gave us room to seat 9 people comfortably and 13 pieces of luggage (13 bags more than you can fit in a first-class airplane's overhead bin).

Once we got the people in, we couldn't just let them sit there in a dark box.

So we cut 21 windows to let the light in, a big hole in back to put the luggage in, and 4 doors to let the people out.

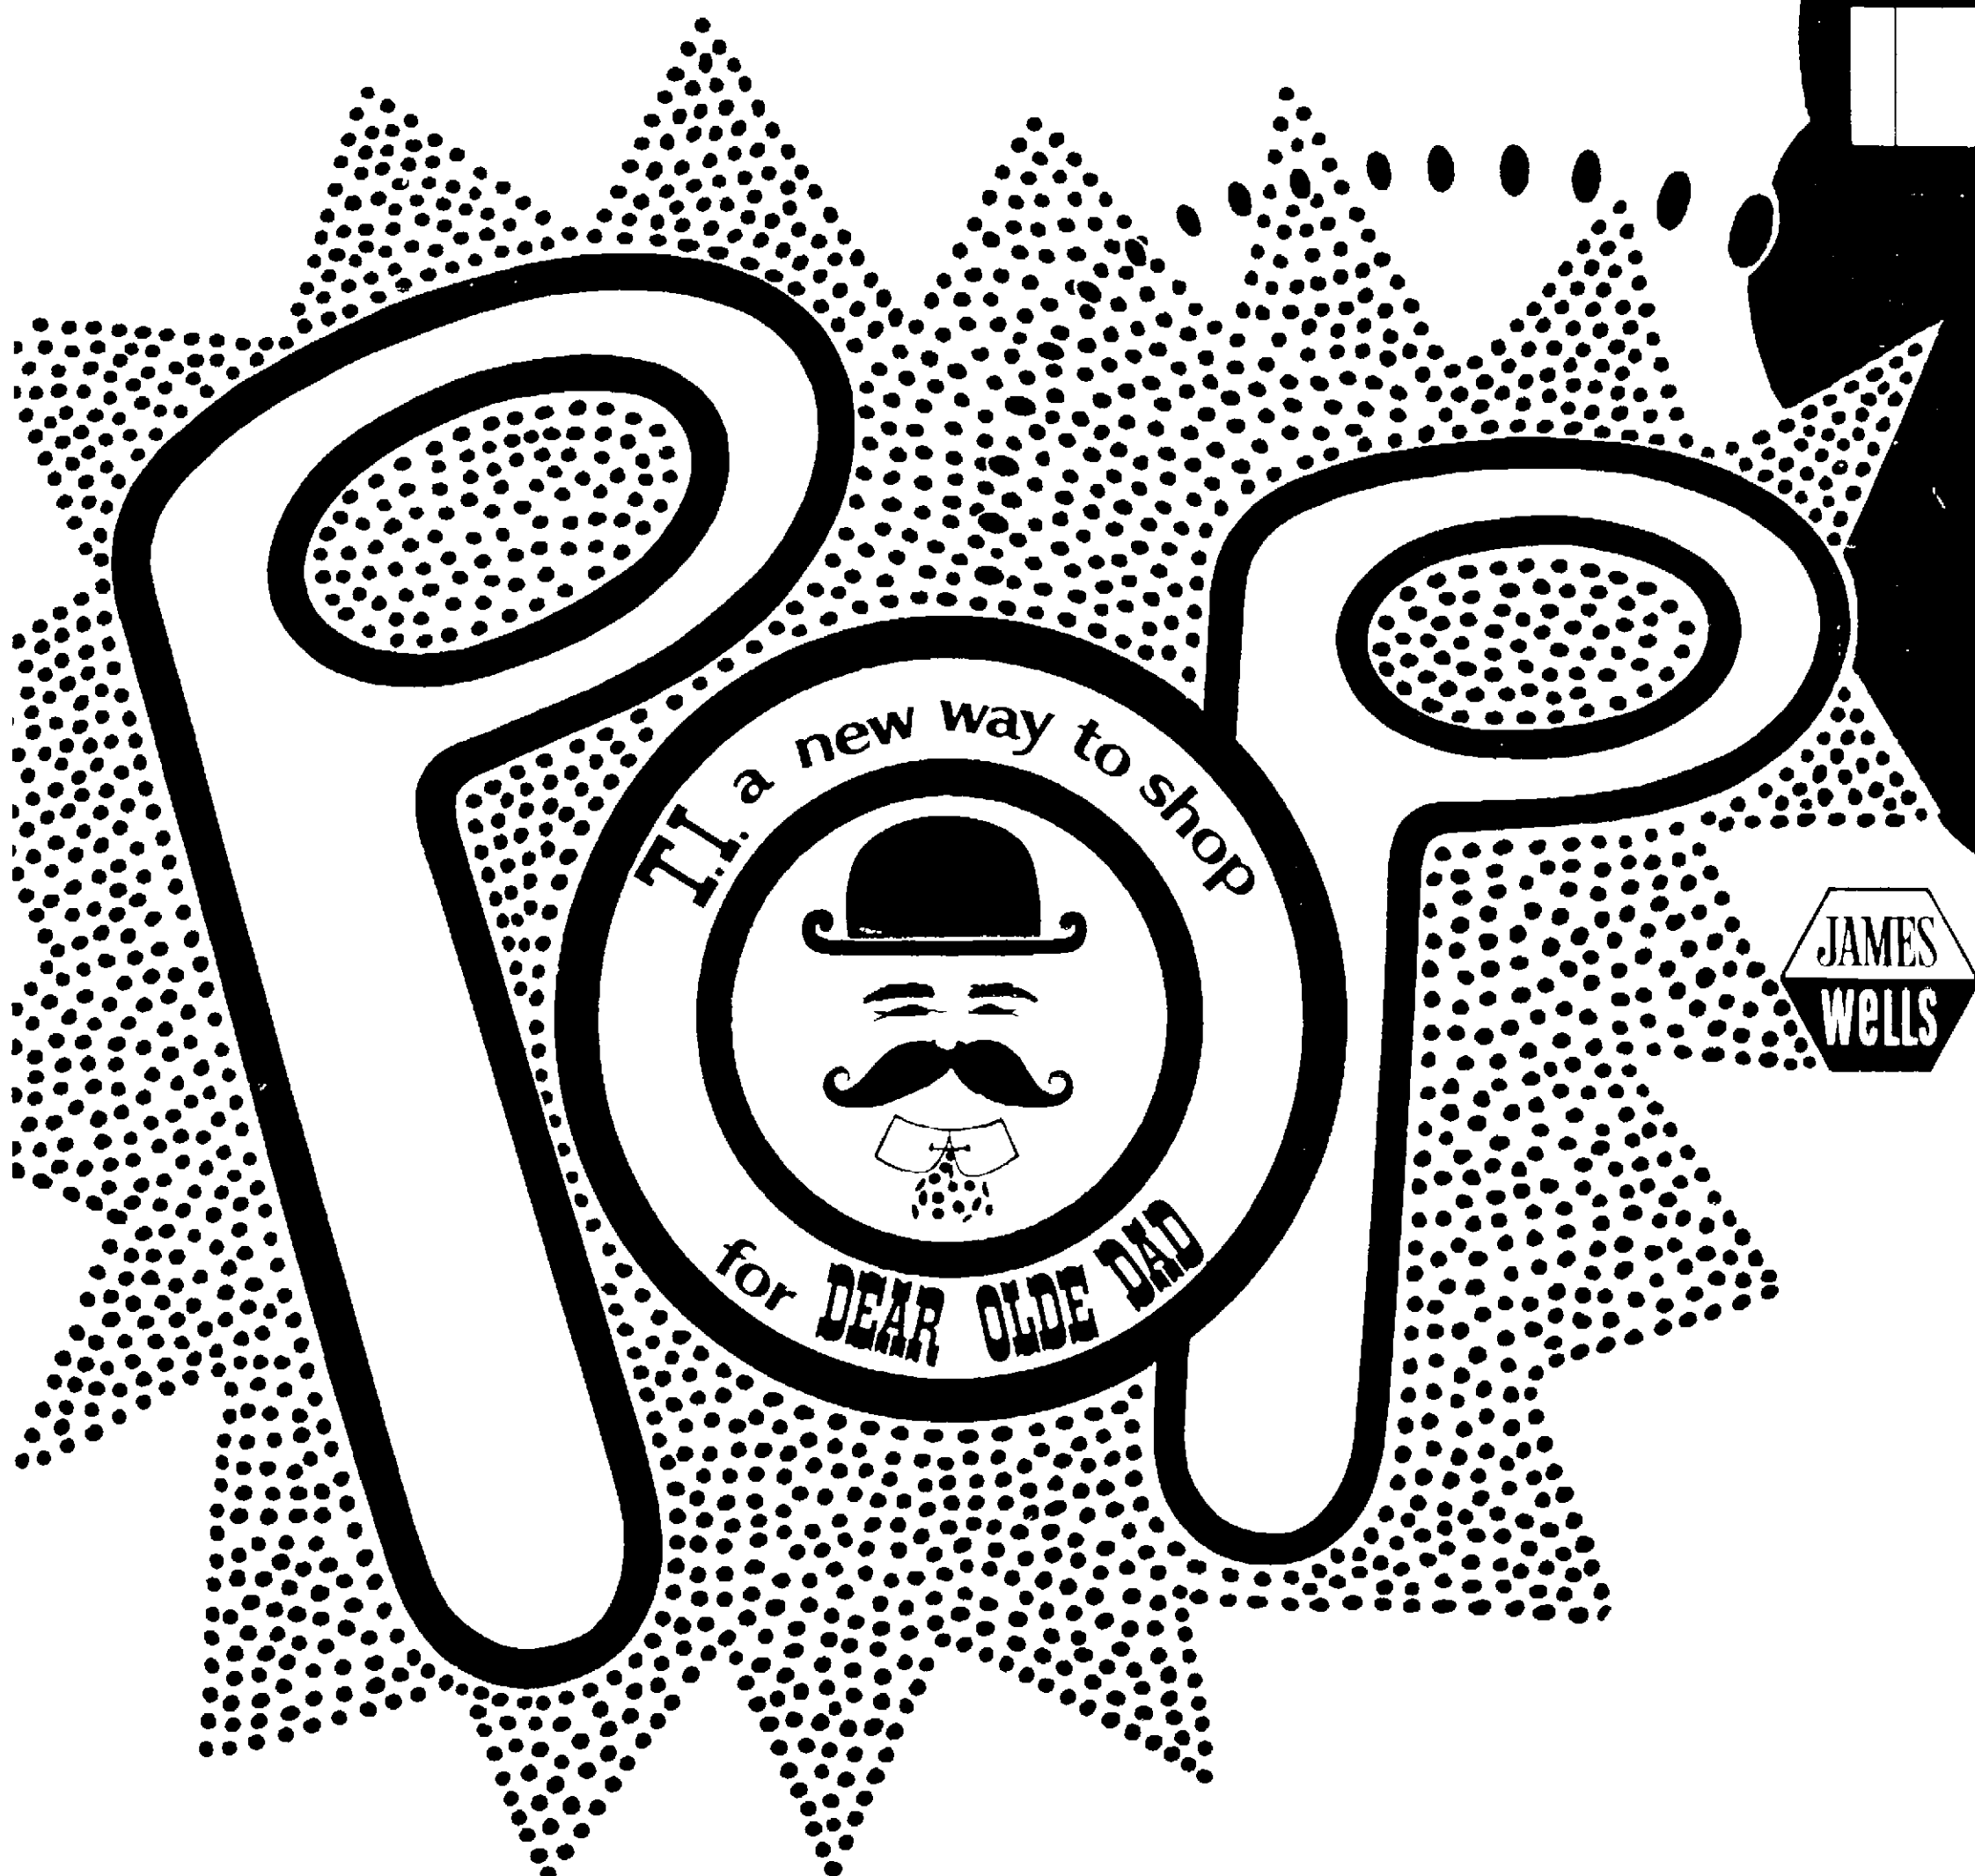

To make the thing go we put the air-cooled Volkswagen engine in back. And what we ended up with is what you see in the picture.

A sensible wagon that holds a lot, parks easily, and doesn't drink much gas.

What could be simpler than that?

Dutch Elm Disease Cases Cause for Rural Attention

As long as there are unprotected stands of Dutch elm trees in Wisconsin's rural areas, village and municipal governments will have to maintain their costly control programs to protect elm trees from Dutch elm disease.

But these control programs need not go on forever, say Chuck Koval, University of Wisconsin insect specialist, and Gayle Worf, university plant pathologist.

No one can say for sure when control programs in cities can be slackened or stopped, but most specialists agree that this day won't come until nearly all untreated elm stands in rural wood lots, and lawns will reduce areas have fallen victim to the disease and are removed, Worf says. As long as there are untreated elms in rural areas, these trees will continue to serve as a source of infection for elms growing in cities.

Sad Situation
"It is a very sad situation," Worf says, "but the quicker unprotected elm stands in the country die off, the easier it will be to control the disease in cities."

In large woodlots, along fence rows, and in other isolated areas it is nearly impossible to carry out an effective control program like those used in towns. However this does not mean that every elm tree on a farmstead or along a country road will have to be cut immediately or must necessarily fall to Dutch elm disease, the specialists point out.

In areas around farm buildings and along rural roads, protective measures similar to those used in cities can be carried out to at least "buy time." These control methods can protect rural elm trees for possibly 20 or more years, Worf says. However it is unrealistic to think that elms can be grown indefinitely in these rural settings.

Replace Elms
Rural residents should act now to replace existing elms with other types of trees. By the time elms are killed in most rural areas, these newly planted trees will be large enough to make the elm's absence less conspicuous, Worf feels. Plant a number of different tree species to help avoid similar disease problems that might attack other types of trees.

If the rural resident is interested in buying more time for his elm trees, he has a number of control methods available.

First, and perhaps most important, is a good sanitation program. Removing and burn

Killing Beetle
Although spraying large elm trees may be a difficult task for most rural residents, it is one method available for killing the elm bark beetle. Where spraying seems impractical, an injection of a systemic insecticide called Bidrin will do an equally good job of controlling the beetle. Bidrin is a highly toxic insecticide, however, and must only be used by trained personnel.

Ruffing Brothers Cow Tops Calumet DHIA

The Department of Dairy Science reports that Wisconsin's cows enrolled in dairy herd improvement program averaged 12,266 pounds of milk and 465 pounds of fat.

Calumet County's top herds in the aged cow class exceeded the fat average. Ruffing Bros top cow had 862 lbs. fat and others in their herd making 723, 665,

Brown Swiss From Newhouse Herd Sets Production Record

Wesley Newhouse of Kaukauna has registered Brown Swiss cows that recently completed records of over 14,000 pounds of milk and or 550 pounds of butterfat in 305 days or less, nearly twice the amount of milk produced in a year by the average cow in the U.S. today.

According to the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders' Association, Bros., 679, 566, 528, 523, 511 and Beloit, the cow in this herd tested under the Official Dairy Herd Improvement Registry: 603, 597, 551, 521, and 508; Robert that made her outstanding record: 571; Walter Schneider is Newhouse's May's Linda, 554; Bernard Geiser, 506; 359926, 8 years, 12,690 pounds of Clifford Schmidt, 497, and Leonard Schmidt, 454.

If you wish to save elms growing in your yard or along driveways, controlling spread of Dutch elm disease by root grafts is a must, Worf says. This treatment consists of injecting a chemical compound called Vapam or VPM into the soil around diseased trees to prevent spread of the fungus disease to nearby healthy trees through root grafts.

Low cost equipment is now available for injecting the chemical compound into the soil, and in some instances, townships have bought equipment for use by their residents. Most tree experts will also be able to do the job.

If you have a large number of elm trees growing in your woodlots, it would be a good idea to harvest them now for any use that you may have for them before the disease strikes and lowers their market value. Contact your county forester, or county agricultural agent for advice on this problem. County agents will also be able to advise you on root graft control treatments.

Participants to Certify Acres in Outagamie

ASCS Sets Dates For Office Visits On Feed Grains

Outagamie is one of the counties selected to use a new method of obtaining planted and diverted acreages under the 1966 feed grain program.

Under this new method, feed grain producers will be asked to report acreages at the county office instead of a reporter visiting their farm and measuring these acreages.

Producers are asked when reporting acreages to be sure their estimates are accurate and correct. Spot checks will be made on at least one of four farms selected at random after certifying acreage at the county office.

If at the time of spot check diverted acreages are found to be short, or feed grain acreages have been overplanted, producers are not permitted to make adjustments. This is a change from previous years. Rather a substantial deduction will be made from their payment. ASCS representatives will help producers during their visit to the county office in making sure that the acreages are in compliance with program regulations. Anyone who is not sure of his acreages may request measurement service upon payment of the cost.

The Feed Grain participants in the towns of Black Creek, Bovina, and Buchanan are asked to visit the county office to certify their acreages on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday and towns of Center, and Cicero on Thursday, Friday or Monday, June 20.

Three Area Youths to Play Lead Roles in FFA Parley

State Association Convention Opens Monday at Green Lake

Three Central Wisconsin youths will have active roles in the 37th annual convention of the Wisconsin Association of Future Farmers of America at Green Lake which opens Monday and continues through Wednesday.

Donald Pfister, New Holstein, is currently secretary of the state association. Entered in the state public speaking contest from section IV are Stanley Boutwell, Manawa, and Carroll Merry, Omro.

They are among 10 finalists, two from each of the five sections in the state. Boutwell, a senior, will speak on "Education vs. Hunger" and "Merry on So Much Yet to Do."

State Winner

All but four will be selected during the day Monday and the winner will be picked during the evening dinner program. The state winner will enter regional competition leading to the national contest if he survives the first match.

Regional winners will compete at the national FFA convention in Kansas City, Mo., this fall.

Judges will be Neilus Larson, general manager of Tri-State Breeders Co. Op., Westby journalism at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

Wisconsin Farmer award candidates will be elected at Tuesday's session. Sectional delegate meetings will be conducted Tuesday afternoon.

Two state officer candidates section to the board of state officers. A session also is planned for chapter advisers.

Award Presentations

Awards will be announced at Tuesday evening's dinner. Included will be foundation, standard and superior chapter improving agriculture and leadership and cooperative awards. Star farmer presentations also will be made.

Gov. Warren Knowles will speak and the honorary Wisconsin Farmer degree will be conferred Tuesday night.

Retiring president Scott Traylor, Milton, will address the convention during the final session Wednesday morning. Joseph P. Detrixhe, national student secretary, Ames, Kans., will discuss "A Time for FFA."

May Prices

Double Blue (prime) lambs sold at $25.42 at the May 25 pool, choice lambs at $25.02. A total of 96 lambs were consigned.

The theory behind the lamb pool is to attract buyers. A large number of graded lambs are brought together at a single location. This cuts the buyer's expense which is reflected in a better price.

Unit Fills Harvesting Power Gap

To help overcome the problem of power shortage in forage harvesting, Marshall Finner, agricultural engineer at the University of Wisconsin, has developed a portable electric power unit.

He used two separate units having 25 to 40 horsepower. Each was connected to a phase converter to permit its use on single phase rural lines. Since some power companies are using the same kilowatt hours of energy for maximum size motors, Finner suggests you check with your electrical supplier on present status of regulation before considering larger motor.

He also says that a single portable motor easy to connect to stationary machines saves considerable cost over installing individual motors on each machine. Electric motors are a most noiseless and easy to use in all types of weather.

When using a 25 horsepower motor reducing the blower speed from 388 to 370 rpm by pulley changes increased capacity for corn silage by four tons per hour (18 per cent) and reduced the energy per ton of silage at about 10 per cent.

Finner further tested the 25 horsepower unit on a large and reduced the electric energy required per ton. With no water added, unloading rate dropped to 12 tons per hour and energy increased.

Reduced Speed

Watch for Insects in Hay, Grain

Now is the time to watch for insects in grain and hay. Stink bugs, aphids, and alfalfa plant bugs are the most common pests of hay fields.

Stink bugs are present when small masses of froth are seen on the leaves of plants. Use a mixture of methoxychlor and diazinon or methoxychlor and malathion. Read recommendations on labels should be followed.

For grain watch for aphids. They will usually be clustered near the top of the plant. They are known as green bug or English aphid. Spraying becomes economical when infestation is 25 aphids or more per a four or drilled row. Use one pound of malathion per acre.

Wait at least seven days after spraying with any of the above before feeding.

The motor and converter are mounted on a two wheel unit. The motor has a shaft in the same relative position as the power take off of a tractor. The shaft has a speed near that of the standard speed of the tractor power take off. Therefore the motor is flexible to do farmstead jobs such as doing blowing, crop drying, feed grinding, and liquid manure pumping.

The 25 horsepower unit and a similar 40 horsepower motor were used to fill a 12 foot by 45 foot shed with corn silage—both motors working at the same time. Maximum unloading rate for the 49 horsepower unit was nearly 47 tons per hour and that of the 25 horsepower unit was near 27 tons per hour but the unit

MADISON (AP) — State legislators, stung by public criticism and Gov. Warren P. Knowles' dissent, backed away Thursday from the pay raise they voted themselves last week.

The Republican chief executive said he would strike from the pay increase bill the $9,600 a year minimum salary award and the $2,450 bonus proposed for 17 legislative leaders.

Assemblymen and senators now are paid $5,400 a year.

Knowles said the line veto would leave intact legislation that allows the Bureau of Personnel and the Joint Finance Committee to establish a new pay level.

The procedure opens the door to another bid for higher salaries but the second attempt would have to be made in open debate at public hearings.

"Our legislative process requires that matters of public concern and particularly matters affecting pocketbook issues, be subject to public scrutiny," Knowles said in a statement explaining his action.

The lawmakers attached their pay increase to a bill granting the personnel bureau and the joint Finance Committee authority to set new pay levels for state department heads.

The Assembly then passed the bill with less than five minutes of talk. Senate debate took less than an hour.

Knowles said he was "in sympathy" with the legislators' request for more pay.

"At the current level of salaries of 4.5 a year it is almost impossible to serve as a legislator without some other source of income to take care of your families and maintain your financial responsibility," he told the lawmakers.

Baby Fatally Hurt in Fall From Bathinette

LITTLE CHUTE — Six-months-old Brian James Giles died Thursday evening shortly after he fell from a bathinette where his father, Edward, left him while he went to answer the telephone.

The call turned out to be a wrong number.

The infant died of a severe brain concussion. Giles was staying with his son, in their home at 121 W. Lincoln St., while the mother was working, according to Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps.

Changing Diaper

Giles told Kemps he was changing the baby's diaper in the bedroom about 6:30 p.m. when the telephone rang in the living room. Giles said the baby was crying at the time.

Just as Giles was replacing the receiver, he heard a thud and, rushing into the bedroom, found the baby lying on the floor near the bathinette. Giles estimated he was away from the child about a half minute.

Seeing that his son was injured, Giles telephoned his wife who was working as a waitress at an Appleton supper club. When she arrived home, they took the baby to a Kaukauna doctor where it was pronounced dead on arrival.

Fell 34 Inches

Kemps, who was assisted in his investigation by Little Chute police, said the infant fell 34 inches from the bathinette to the bedroom floor.

The body was released to the Verkuilen Funeral Home, Little Chute.

Paratroopers Battle Stubborn Red Force

2 Battalions Airlifted to Help Fight

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. paratroopers battled a stubborn, dug-in North Vietnamese force for the fourth day in the central highlands today, while Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government sent 400 Vietnamese riot policemen into the northern Buddhist stronghold of Hue.

Helicopters lifted at least two battalions of American and Vietnamese troops into the fierce action 280 miles north of Saigon. Battlefield reports indicated the Americans may be fighting as many as two regiments — some 1,600 men — of North Vietnamese regulars, although the enemy force earlier was estimated at 900 men.

Heavy fighting was reported continuing late into the day.

An American military spokesman said 239 North Vietnamese had been killed in the fighting, which began before dawn Tuesday with a Communist attack on a small U.S. encampment. But the spokesman added: "The count undoubtedly will go much higher. Those people up there are more interested in killing North Vietnamese than in counting bodies."

Losses Light

U.S. losses were reported light over-all, but one platoon was badly mauled.

U.S. planes had flown 167 sorties so far in the battle, which erupted anew Thursday night in the dense jungles of Kontum province 280 miles north of Saigon. Pitted against units of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade, as it prowled Communist infiltration routes near the Laotian border, were an estimated 900 North Vietnamese.

Fighting was reported heavy throughout the day and was still going on late this afternoon, the spokesman reported.

The size and determination of the enemy indicated the Communists might be moving to the offensive again after waiting futilely for the Buddhists to be posed Ky.

King Leaves March but Will Return if Needed

COMO, Miss. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., whose presence has been a magnet to the Negroes marching through Mississippi, was gone from the head of the line today. But he promised to return immediately if the demonstration loses any impetus.

James H. Meredith, who originated the "march against fear" Sunday — and was wounded by birdshot and hospitalized the next day — said in New York he will be on the road again June 16 if his doctor permits. A civil rights group in Baltimore said it would join, too, after a rally Sunday.

"It is my belief from the warm reception received along the road, both in Tennessee and Mississippi, that my walk may have done something to alleviate the heavy burden of fear which rests upon Mississippi Negroes," Meredith said in a statement read to newsmen by a minister.

One leading Democrat who has a reputation for party pulse-taking is forecasting that the convention will probably back the declared purposes and recorded methods of President Lyndon Johnson when a resolution on the war is adopted, but that there will be a strong and vociferous dissenting minority.

MADISON — Worry about the war in distant Viet Nam and the legitimacy of American policy there today seemed likely to subordinate the usual debate on more mundane state and local issues as Wisconsin Democrats opened their annual statewide delegate convention.

Airlift From Cuba Resumes After Alma

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The refugee airlift from Cuba, interrupted by Hurricane Alma, resumes Monday.

The airlift plane flew to New Orleans Tuesday, itself a refugee from the hurricane zone.

Normally two plane loads of Cubans — about 200 — arrive every weekday. More than two-thirds of them fly on to other U.S. cities. Some 25,000 have been airlifted from Cuba since Dec. 1.

the state have raised Wisconsin's 1966 traffic toll to 362, compared with 369 a year ago.

Dead are:

David N. Wilz, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Wilz, 1480 Park St., Neenah, and Pamela Danner, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Danner, 156 S. Main St., Clintonville.

Miss Danner was killed shortly before noon Thursday in a collision of the sports car she was driving and a delivery truck owned by the Milwaukee Journal. The crash occurred at the intersection of State 100 and W. National Avenue, in suburban West Allis.

The girl was an honor student at Clintonville High School where she graduated in 1965. Miss Danner had just completed her freshmen year at Stout State University in Menomonie, Wis.

Marinette County

Wilz was killed about 8:30 p.m. Thursday, when the car he was driving left Marinette County Highway C and rolled over about 15 miles east of Wabeno.

A passenger in the car, John Dennis, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dennis, 1020 Bayview Road, Neenah, is in fair condition at Marinette General Hospital with possible internal injuries.

Wilz and Dennis, along with three other youth, had been vacationing at the Simon Wilz cabin, near Wabeno, and had gone into the town to buy paint. They were returning to the cabin when the car, owned by Lloyd Wilz, a brother of the victim, went out of control on a rough stretch of road.

Lloyd Wilz, driving another car, and the two other youths, riding motorcycles, were ahead of David Wilz when the accident occurred. They did not know about the crash until they went back to look for the missing boys and found the wrecked car.

Clintonville School Board Resets Terms

Voters Will Elect 2 Members, Rather Than One on July 25

CLINTONVILLE — The terms of board of education members will be staggered more evenly from now on, according to a resolution passed at the board meeting Thursday night.

Two school board members, rather than only one, will be elected July 25 to three-year terms on the seven-member board.

According to the resolution, three members will be elected one year, two members the next and two the following. Previously, only one member had been elected one of the years.

Changes Term

This was the year only one member was to be elected. Mrs. George McCauley's term expires this year and her position was the only one to be filled. Then, the Rev. John A. Sizemore, who has moved from the city resigned after serving only one year of his three-year term. Rather than fill an unexpired term, the board decided to change it to a full three-year term.

Candidates for the two board positions must file written statements of their intent to seek the offices with Mrs. McCauley, board clerk, before June 25.

The election is set for July 25, the same day the district's annual meeting is scheduled in Clintonville High School.

Stolen Car Found At Bear Creek

BEAR CREEK — A 1958 model car stolen from Tripod Chevrolet Co., Clintonville, was recovered Thursday noon by constable David Fletcher. The constable checked the vehicle which had been parked near Outagamie County branch garage on Railroad Street for two days.

Waupaca County sheriff's department is investigating.

Car Reported Stolen From Waupaca Street

WAUPACA — The theft of a 1955 Chevrolet four-door sedan, owned by Lawrence A. Vetter, route 3, Waupaca, has been reported to city police.

Vetter told police the car was taken between 6:30 and 7 p.m., Thursday, from a parking stall on W. Union Street. The car is blue with a white top.

Institution Merger Proposal Hits Snag

Outagamie Executive Committee Balks at Attempt to Rush Plan

Following complaints that an attempt was being made to "push it through too rapidly," the Outagamie County Board's executive committee Wednesday morning agreed to hold over at least until August, submitting of individual basis in the various county institutions under a central board.

The proposal originally had been expected to come up for board action at the June 14 meeting.

Action Wednesday morning came after a resolution calling for consolidation came up for discussion and anticipated approval by the executive committee.

Would Combine Administration
The resolution called for combining the administration of the Golden Age Home, the Riverview Sanatorium and General Hospital, the Community Guidance Center, the Outagamie County Welfare Department and the Community Health Services of the county under a five-member County Board of Public Welfare.

The board would be comprised of one county board supervisor and four members to

Summer School Schedule Set At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — The summer school will begin Monday and will close July 8, with no school July 4.

School will start at 8 and close at 11 a.m. except for days tours are scheduled.

Rural students will be picked up early the first day — probably between 7 and 7:30 a.m.

Buses will pick up South Side pupils at Rexford School at 7:45 a.m.

Pupils in grades one-three will report to Dellwood School and grades four-eight at the high school.

Salary Plan for County Set for Re-Evaluation

Representatives of Consultants to Visit Outagamie Officials

Representatives of the J. L. Jacobs Co., author of Outagamie County's job classification and salary plan, will be here next week to begin a re-evaluation of the overall plan put into effect early last year.

Attention was called to their meeting of the county board's executive committee. Alvin Woehner, county executive secretary, said the study was being made prior to the start of contract negotiations with the state's population on 25 per cent of the land area, he predicted.

The new study was approved some time ago by the county board, which appropriated about $1,700 for the project.

Have Information
Woehner urged executive committee members, who by virtue of their positions are chairmen of the board committees, to have information ready on problem areas in their departments.

Areas that promise to receive considerable study by the Jacobs representatives are the sheriff and traffic departments.

In other action Wednesday, the executive committee turned down an $8,000 offer by Herbert Dorn to purchase 14 lots presently owned by the county which are just south of W. Brewster Street and west of Hines Avenue in the Town of Grand Chute.

Approved was a request for the county to pay for a trip by County Judge Urban P. Van Susteren to a State Bar Association meeting this month in Delavan.

Brillion Civic Leaders Urged To 'Use Vision' in Future

Survey by Two Universities Probes Aspects of Community; City Classified as 'Progressive'

BY JOAN COENEN

Post-Crescent Correspondent

BRILLION — "Use vision, look ahead, plan now and buy land now for the parks, recreation areas, and the schools that you need" Brillion was told Wednesday night.

The speaker was Dr. Douglas Marshall of the Department of Rural Sociology, University of Wisconsin.

He based his remarks to 77 local school, industrial and civic leaders on a community survey which was conducted here by the UW department and the Industrial Relations Center, University of Chicago in February. Marshall said the survey showed Brillion was a "progressive" city.

"Our results show that Brillion is a self-contained city with 92 per cent of services done here — except those of a special nature," he said.

"Must Pay More"
"You want better recreation facilities, a swimming pool and, like other cities all over the United States, you want general improvements in the education area. If you want these things you must be willing to pay more," he advised.

The "manageable, orderly" growth in the Fox Valley (which his department classifies as Brown, Calumet, Fond du Lac, Kewaunee, Manitowish, Outagamie, Sheboygan and Winnebago counties) is not found in many areas, Marshall said.

"We take resources for granted. Water and land are not coming visit Wednesday at a meeting of the county board's executive committee. Alvin Woehner, county executive secretary, said the study was being made prior to the start of contract negotiations with the state's population on 25 per cent of the land area, he predicted.

communities in Calumet County when funds are available.

"Our intent is to get a complete regional profile and then work with welfare, education, agricultural and industrial leaders to help them in their projected planning," he said.

Community surveys cost from $20,000 to $60,000, depending on the community's size, number of persons interviewed and the number of persons employed during the survey.

Marshall explained that his group studies three major types of counties all over the United States.

The northern area of Wisconsin has outgoing population, generally low incomes and little industry. It has 31 per cent of the state's land area, but will have only four per cent of the population in 1980 if present trends continue.

New Teachers Added to Staff At Wittenberg

Eight Instructors To Work in Primary, Secondary Education

WITTENBERG — Eight teachers, four in the high school and four in elementary schools, have been added to the faculties of Wittenberg public schools.

One of the new district high school teachers, Mrs. Hope Moreland, Clintonville, was graduated from Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point in 1965. Mrs. Moreland will teach home economics.

Other new high school instructors include three 1966 graduates of Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh.

Teach Social Studies
They are James Brabender, Peshtigo, who will teach social studies; John Diffor, Oshkosh, a mathematics teacher, and Stuart Bowman, Green Bay, who will teach both science and mathematics.

Mrs. Eileen Janigo, Wittenberg; Mrs. Gladys Kaiser and Miss Connie Rice, Antigo, and Miss Beverly Bohle, Rib Lake, are the new elementary teachers.

Mrs. Janigo, who studied at Ashland County Teachers College and Northland College, Ashland, as well as Wisconsin State University-River Falls and Wisconsin State University-Superior, will teach first grade at Eland, Mrs. Janigo formerly taught at Boyceville.

Taught at Birmahood
Mrs. Kaiser, who has taught at Birmahood since 1958, studied at Langlade County Normal and Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point. She will teach grade six at Wittenberg.

Grade four at Wittenberg will be the first teaching assignment for Miss Connie Rice, who completed a two-year course at Langlade County Teachers College in May.

Miss Bohle will teach the new grade five at Wittenberg. She recently completed a two-year course at Taylor County Teachers College in Medford.

Bender announced that Marcia Radtke would be the Chamber's entrant in the Wolf River Queen contest at Fremont later this month.

Bear Creek Swim Program Plans Aligned

BEAR CREEK — The summer recreation swimming program organized by the Bear Creek School District, will begin Wednesday, according to the Supv. Prin. W. A. Wakem.

Two groups will be organized, with the younger group leaving at 11:30 a.m. and the older group leaving at 12:30 p.m. Both groups will be transported by school bus from the front entrance of the high school.

Ages of each group will be designated after registration. Children who are six or have completed kindergarten and up through 19 but under 20 will register at the high school office between 9 a.m. and noon on Friday or Monday. The season fee of $1 will be paid at registration. It will cover all charges of the program including transportation and swimming fees.

State Odd Fellows Seek Convention Okay for Waupaca Youth Camp

WAUPACA — Construction of a camp six miles south of here, which would eventually house 192 youngsters will begin this summer, if the state Odd Fellows convention approves the plan.

The convention is scheduled at Wisconsin Rapids next week.

Clarence Arendt, Wisconsin Rapids, chairman of the camp committee's board of directors, will ask for authorization to spend from $75,000 to $100,000 for buildings and improvements on the 117-acre site the group owns on Goose Neck and McClean's lakes.

Immediate Construction
Arendt told The Post-Crescent today that he is optimistic the proposal will be approved. Construction would start immediately if the Wisconsin Grand Lodge gives its blessing to the project.

Arendt said the camp would open with a capacity of 96 children, which would be increased to 192 as soon as funds are available.

The committee was authorized last year to begin preparing definite plans.

It will propose to the convention that six cabins, plus other facilities, be constructed.

House 18
The frame structures each would house 18 children, plus two counselors. A bathroom would provide restroom facilities for the complex of dorms. A diningroom-assembly hall, including a kitchen, would be the largest building with a seating capacity of 200.

Also proposed are a caretaker's home, a canteen, and an administration building, which would include nurses' quarters. Waterfront equipment would be purchased, and areas for softball, shuffleboard and volleyball constructed.

Rustic Setting
The camp, which as of now is designated the Wisconsin Odd Fellows-Rebekah Youth Camp, would open as soon as schools close in the spring of 1967.

The rustic setting and outdoor facilities would be under the direction of Art Melinski, Schofield, chairman of the camp operations committee.

Council Confirms 3 Appointments At New London

NEW LONDON — Three mayoral appointments to city committees were confirmed at Tuesday's council meeting.

Mrs. Walter Schoenrock, 503 Wyman St., was reappointed to a three-year term on the designated Wisconsin Odd Fellows-Rebekah Youth Camp.

Calumet Group Pledges $7,500 To Brown County Retarded Unit

SHERWOOD — Calumet County Association for Retarded Children pledged $7,500 to the proposed Brown County Community Center for mental retardates at a special meeting this week at Chilton city hall.

The money will be paid over a five-year period at $1,500 annually. It will be for the capital building fund. No other campaigns are anticipated, Robert Allen, executive director of the Brown County Community Center who attended the meeting with Edward Kehoe, Brown County chapter president, said.

Before the ballot vote, which came after more than five hours of discussion at two meetings, Donald Duchow, Potter, chairman of the New Hope Day Care Center board, asked that the group underwrite the $7,500 for expansion of the present day care facilities that started six months ago in the basement of the Toth Nursing Home, Chilton.

Facilities Discussed

Duchow took his stand following a meeting with the board Friday. None of the members attended the May 9 meeting at Twain School, when Allen discussed the new facilities in detail. Duchow said the board would like to put the Calumet County program on a five-day a week basis and while the Calumet County chapter which sponsors the center had no knowledge of the plans, Duchow said the Day Care board had looked at several homes with the idea of expansion. He added, however, that a new building would be more practical and quoted a figure of $20,000 for construction costs.

Duchow said the board did not want to see its fledgling project hindered by pledging the money to the Green Bay facility. He asked if the county was morally obligated to contribute, since federal funds were already allocated.

Allen said "it is not a question of if you are morally obligated to pay the $7,500, but if you are morally obligated to help the mentally retarded".

He said if he thought the Green Bay program would not encourage it, but pointed out the many ways it would enhance it. He said he felt the county needed both.

Qualified For Aid

The Calumet County New Hope Center was notified Friday that it had qualified for state aid of 40 per cent of its operating cost. About $3,000 has been donated to the program, which operated two days a week under the direction of Mrs. Viola Eigendorf, Sheboygan.

Money was raised in a county-wide fund drive sponsored by the Calumet County Association for Retarded Children and from civic groups and individual donations. Five post-school age pupils are enrolled and two pre-school agers are on a trial basis.

Members of the association expressed their opinions enthusiastically for the Brown County Community Center, pointing out how it would supplement their program with facilities they would never be able to have in Calumet County. They were however, equally enthusiastic about keeping their own program, especially for pre-school age children.

Members seemed confident that they could fulfill the pledge and cited several other fund campaigns successfully supported by county residents, and industries.

Counties Pledging

Allen said counties pledging funds to date are Waupaca, $7,500; Shawano and Menominee, $10,000 and Kewaunee, $10,000. He said he expected Outagamie County to support it too.

Mrs. Fred Filz, Mrs. Robert Fuerst and Mrs. William Bonzelet of the Outagamie chapter attended the meeting.

After hearing the discussion and learning that only $256,000 of the $690,000 needed for the center was provided by the federal grant, Duchow explained that the Day Care board had been under the impression that the money was already pledged and that the Calumet County work in Africa and New Guinea.

Fremont to Build Elevated Piers At Boat Launching Ramps

FREMONT — Three elevated walkways will be constructed by Fremont at its boat launching ramps this season, the village council decided Tuesday night.

Boardwalks will be raised above the normal water level to a height which will make the loading and unloading of boats from trailers easier.

The ramps will extend into the Wolf River about 16 feet, which is more than the distance from shore required to float most boats on and off trailers.

The catwalks will be about two feet wide. They will be kept at a minimum width to discourage loitering.

South of Bridge

The village has a boat launching site of four stalls south of the bridge, at which two walkways will be constructed. One walkway will be built on the ramp north of the bridge, where three boats can be launched simultaneously.

The walkways will be completed this season, but construction will begin at the larger 40-foot wide ramp first.

Harold Abraham, village trustee of the Park and Beach Committee, reported that contributions in canisters placed in the area totaled $76.60.

Instead of Fee

The locked banks were set up by the village for free donations instead of charging a member of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, Inc. Each winner ramps. The funds help defray village maintenance costs of the Rodeo arena, are an eight-year-

Clair Steffel Jr. Found Guilty in Death Crash

Driving Over Center Line Conviction Cost Operator $100 Fine

Clair Stoffel Jr., 19, 319 E. Summer St. has been found guilty of a traffic charge brought following a fatal accident July 6 on Outagamie County Trunk BB, just west of Appleton.

County Judge Gustave J. Keller announced the verdict today, after studying briefs filed by Stoffel's attorney and A. W. Ponath, county corporation counsel.

Stoffel had pleaded innocent of operating a motor vehicle over the center line. He was arrested by county police after the car he was driving was involved in an accident with a vehicle driven by Raymond St. Cyr, 2425 Carleton Avenue. The accident occurred near St. Mary Cemetery about 12:30 a.m.

Passenger Killed
Killed in the crash was William C. Unmuth, 18, 222 E. Spring St., a passenger in the Stoffel car.

In finding Stoffel guilty, Judge Keller assessed a fine of $100 and costs of 48 days in jail.

Judge Keller, in making his decision, pointed out two major considerations. Who was driving the Stoffel car and on what side of the road was it being operated?

During the trial May 4 in Court Branch 2 without a jury, testimony failed to reveal who was operating the Stoffel car prior to the accident. The youth testified he could remember nothing about the accident or what he was doing just before the mishap. Unmuth was his only passenger.

Police stated during the trial that because the Stoffel car was overturned it was difficult to say simply by the positions of Stoffel and Unmuth in the vehicle who was driving. However, they testified that Stoffel was pinned under the steering wheel, unconscious, and Unmuth was on the passenger side, also unconscious.

Clintonville Boys Win God, Country Boy Scout Awards

CLINTONVILLE — Thomas and Douglas Passehl, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Passehl, 60 W. First St., will receive the Boy Scout God and Country Award Sunday at the Methodist Student Day Worship Service in the First Methodist Church.

The boys were selected for the award because of their many hours of service to their church and their activities in scouting. By their help at ice cream socials and pancake suppers they have been instrumental in sending representative scouts to England and purchasing new scout equipment.

Thomas, a ninth grader, is a member of Troop 28 and a First Class Scout. Currently, he is continuing work on merit badges. He also has an instructor's warrant, which is given in recognition of proficiency in scouting skills and ability to share this knowledge with younger boys.

Douglas Passehl, an eighth grader and a member of Troop 21, is also a First Class Scout. In addition to his merit badges in basketball and rabbit raising, he plays the violin in the school orchestra.

Kaukauna Man Fined as Son Sold Fireworks

KAUKAUNA — Robert Courtney, 51, 720 Grignon St. Kaukauna was fined $30, of which $15 was remitted, after pleading guilty of permitting a minor to have firecrackers in his possession when arraigned before Clarence O'Connor municipal justice Tuesday.

Courtney was arrested after several boys were picked up for shooting firecrackers and informed police they had purchased them from Courtney's son. The boys involved and their fathers were ordered to the police station where all firecrackers were confiscated.

Courtney was arrested after admitting he knew his son was selling firecrackers. Police warned a parent is held liable if a child has fireworks in his possession and additional arrests are likely if violations are discovered.

Today is Friday, June 10, the 161st day of 1966. There are 204 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1692, the first of 20 persons was hanged as a witch in Salem, Mass.

A sort of hysteria swept Salem during the rest of that summer and hundreds of people were accused and punished for allegedly practicing witchcraft.

On this date:

In 1859, the Comstock Lode was discovered in Nevada. It produced a total yield in silver and gold of more than $340 million.

In 1940, the French government fled from Paris to Tours during World War II.

In 1945, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower received the Jeweled Order of Victory—Russia's highest award.

In 1947, President Harry S. Truman arrived in Ottawa. It was the first state visit to Canada by an American president.

Ten years ago—Republican congressional leaders said President Eisenhower would run for re-election. This came one day after Eisenhower underwent surgery at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington. He was suffering from inflammation of the lower section of the small intestine.

Chief Carter, his wife and three sons will make their home in Gary, Ind., after his retirement.

U of W Student From Appleton Receives Honor

Sister M. Suzanne Nofke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Nofke of 942 Marquette St., Appleton, was one of five University of Wisconsin students awarded the King, Christian Inter-Fellowship Award.

The award is given to the students in recognition of their role in improving inter-group understanding.

All recipients made significant contributions in the area of improved interfaith, international, interracial and intergroup relationships and understanding on the Madison campus.

Sister M. Suzanne received a special award for her outstanding work in developing understanding of ecumenical relationships and programs in Jewish-Christian dialogue.

Funds for the award are provided by the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation in honor of King Christian of Denmark, who handled the transfer of 7,000 Danish Jews to the safety of neutral Sweden during World War II.

28 Fined for Boating Fishing Violations

$582 Collected on Weekend Arrests in Fremont Area

WAUPACA — Fourteen Wisconsin residents were among the 28 fishermen and boaters who paid a total of $582 in fines and forfeitures Thursday for conservation law violations last weekend in the Fremont area. Except for one, all were charged either with fishing without a license, operating a boat without sufficient life preservers or operating a boat without lights after sundown. The lone exception was Arthur Langwehr, Mosinee, who forfeited a $56 bond for having possession of a sturgeon during a closed season. State residents charged with fishing without a license who either paid $10 fines and costs or forfeited $16.50 bonds were Gorham A. Kindem, 18, 743 E. Franklin St., Appleton; Edward A. Olson, 17, 1124 W. Glendale

Police Investigate Theft of Tools, Damage to Mail Box

LITTLE CHUTE — Police are investigating the complaint of Cy DeGroot, 417 W. Main St., who reported the theft of an assortment of tools and a small electric motor from his garage sometime Tuesday night. DeGroot did not miss the items until about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday when he went to the garage for the tools. Carl Chopin, Riverside Drive, Little Chute, reported damage to a mailbox outside their home sometime Wednesday night. Police checked the area and found this the only damaged box.

Oshkosh Man's Car Hits Deer at Fremont

WAUPACA — Damages of more than $200 were caused to a car driven by Peter C. Giffers, 23, 17258 Elmwood St., Oshkosh, at 9:25 p.m. Wednesday when it struck a deer two miles west of Fremont on U.S. 10. Giffers told county police four deer jumped in front of his car as he was traveling south and he was able to avoid hitting all but one. Giffers escaped injury.

Buddhist campaign was underlined by an announcement that Ky would fly to South Korea Monday to attend a conference of nine non-Communist nations.

Ky's announcement coincided with a declaration by the junta that it had conferred broad new powers on the premier to deal with South Viet Nam's chronic economic and financial problems.

Both announcements buttressed the general impression that the ruling generals considered themselves firmly entrenched despite weeks of agitation by the country's militant Buddhist minority to oust them.

Ky's office said the premier would address the three-day foreign ministers' meeting in Seoul, which opens Tuesday known as the Asia Pacific ministerial conference. It will discuss ways in which the participants can develop closer economic and cultural ties.

Take Back Seat

With politics once more taking a back seat, the official Vietnamese press agency published a communique announcing that Ky had been authorized "to sign and promulgate decrees on all measures relating to taxes, economic problems, foreign exchange and finance" in the next three months.

The implication was that the government intended to take drastic measures to cope with the country's galloping inflation in an effort to win popular confidence before the election Sept. 11 of a constitutional convention.

Under the impact of the war against the Viet Cong and the growing free spending U.S. military establishment, the cost of living has risen 55 per cent for working class Vietnamese in the past year. The figure is based on the cost of everyday products required by most of the country, particularly rice. Wages have lagged far behind.

The recent Buddhist campaign against the government played heavily on popular discontent resulting from spiraling prices. Blaming the Americans, Buddhist street orators contrasted the plight of the average Vietnamese with the well-fed, armored GIs in Saigon's restaurants, bars and hotels.

Even while the Buddhists kept up the political pressure with demonstrations, suicides and mob violence, a team of U.S. economic advisers worked quietly with government officials to bring the runaway inflation under control. To a large degree, the willingness of the people to stand with the government against the Viet Cong depends on how well it meets the economic crisis.

Just what the American advisers propose for coping with the inflation has not been disclosed, but Ky has repeatedly promised tough measures against speculators and war profiteers. So far, one business man — a Chinese — has been executed for profiteering.

Continued Effort

The Communists meanwhile continued their effort to undermine the economy by blasting a power plant at Lai Thieu, about 15 miles north of Saigon. Authorities said 40 persons inside the plant as well as a policeman and several civilians outside were injured.

About half the installation was reported destroyed. The blast was caused by a mine, a spokesman said.

The difficulty of stemming the flow of men and supplies to the Communists into South Viet Nam was underscored by Maj. Gen. Ben Steinberg, commander of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division and a veteran of 26 months in Viet Nam. He said in Nashville, Tenn., Thursday night that 500,000 more troops would be needed to seal off South Viet Nam against infiltration. He noted the length of South Viet Nam's borders and the difficulty of patrolling the jungle terrain.

U.S. Troops

The United States has about 260,000 troops in South Viet Nam. Together with South Vietnamese and other forces, the allied command has nearly a million men under arms in South Viet Nam. Arrived against them are an estimated 250,000 men, including 90,000 hardcore guerrillas and North Vietnamese regular troops. A Heavy tree trunks, chunks of buildings and battered cars littered many parts of town even after a full day of cleanup which succeeded in opening all streets to some degree. One city official said the cleanup there is expected to take at least four weeks.

The tornado was the worst in the city's history. It skimmed over a mound at the northwest edge of town shortly before 6 p.m. Wednesday and ranging up to one-half mile, it swept a 15-mile path of death and destruction through the city.

Wright said the number of Topeka's left homeless ranged from 2,000 to nearly 5,000 but probably is somewhere in between the two extremes. A factual count is not expected to be completed for several days.

Front Runner

Delegates were arriving in Madison with a consensus that Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Fluey, the ranking Democratic officeholder in the state capitol and a veteran of party organization service over a decade and a half, is the front runner for the nomination to oppose Gov. Warren P. Knowles, who appears unlikely to be opposed for by public renomination after his endorsement by the Republican convention three weeks ago.

Dominic Frinzi, a Milwaukee lawyer, and Abe Svendsen, the Rev. Leo Ott, pastor

Milwaukee capitalist have also said they will file for the September primary election. Svendsen has not yet made a formal declaration and is expected to use the convention rostrum here tonight to do so. They Democrats expect either Frinzi or Svendsen to be a serious challenger. Then, relevance in the campaign is the effect their vote collecting work may have on the distribution of primary votes between Carley and Fluey, most Democratic politicians believe.

When you don't know what's ahead, go Mercury...world's most dependable outboard

With a new Mercury on your stern, you've got a lot more ruggedness to depend on. It's designed to be more impact-proof. Mercury's exclusive shearproof propeller, cushioned in rubber, gives slightly on impact, then springs back in place. (No anxious intermissions trying to replace a shear or drive pin.) Hydraulic shock absorbers control motor kick-up. Drive shaft and lower unit housings are one piece to assure alignment and sturdiness. And Mercury's small-bore, short-stroke, in-line design keeps your engine running smoothly and reduces wear. There's even more dependability for '66 with new Lake X-proved crankshaft and connecting rods, plus new reed blocks for stronger main bearing support. ## The Mind-Changer.

(the car built with your safety in mind)

This man thought he'd have to wait another year to get the safety he wanted in a car. But then he examined a Mind-Changing Ambassador. First he discovered that Ambassador has Double-Safety brakes, like Cadillac. He gave its body the once-over and found it to be of solid Single-Unit construction. He examined its Ceramic-Armored exhaust system (the industry's longest lasting). He gave the other standard safety features a complete physical, too...the padded dash and visors, outside mirror, seat belts, backup lights, new higher-strength windshield, windshield washers, and variable speed, non-glare wipers. So now he thinks Ambassador (and drives one, too). If you think you'll have to wait another year to get the safety you want in a car, see the Mind-Changer at your American Motors Rambler Dealer. # '10 Commandments' Message Still Timely

BY HENRY SIMON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Cecil B. DeMille's epic 'The Ten Commandments' was first produced 10 years ago yet in one way its message is more timely today.

The masterpiece currently showing at the Viking Theater in Appleton and the Elm Theater in Oshkosh shows Moses repeatedly telling Pharaoh Ramesses II: "Let my people go!"

As the Hebrews marched as free men out of Egypt after 400 years of bondage the story proclaims all men are free and should not be discriminated against because of skin color or creed.

The film takes three hours and 39 minutes and becomes a four-hour presentation with the necessary intermission.

The acting in DeMille's story of Moses is spectacular. Charlton Heston does a splendid job of portraying the main character, molded from an Egyptian prince to the called prophet of God's chosen people.

Yul Brunner convincingly fills the role of the ambitious Ramesses. Moses' spiritual and temporal opponent. The character of Seti, the Egyptian princess who in DeMille's version of the story loved Moses and lost is presented by lovely Anne Baxter as the woman who is increasingly to be pitied as the tale progresses.

Notable for their portrayals are the late Sir Cedric Hardwicke who plays Pharaoh Seti I with a sense of majesty and sharp-witted humor and Edward G. Robinson who combines showiness and overblown ambition as Dathan, Jewish ruler of Goshen.

DeMille's portrayal of the Scriptural account of times takes liberties with the Bible that seemed to be too great to this reviewer.

The combining of the story of the giving of the law and the rebellion of Korah and Dathan at the end of the film is the prime transgression in this respect.

The portrayal of the plagues and the Lord's finger writing the ten commandments on the two tablets of stone is spectacular although inaccurate at times.

But these are somewhat minor items in considering the film which cannot help but make persons of the Judeo-Christian world more appreciative of their spiritual heritage.

The near capacity crowds at showings of 'The Ten Commandments' seem to agree.

8:30-9 Channels 11-6-9—The Farmer's Daughter takes up the role of cupid in 'Steve, Boy Lovelorn.' Inger Stevens, very much the little mother who wants to see her newly acquired blood happy wings into help.

9:10 Channels 2-7-12—The Man From U.N.C.L.E.'s 'The Deadly Toys Affair' is another madcap outing. Solo and Ilva try to protect Jay North (who is used to be Dennis the Menace) a boy with a whopper of an IQ. It's the usual hide-and-seek with Thrush, out to get the boy's brain. The fun here is from Angela Lansbury (Broadway 'Mame') who plays an auntie who has been making films in Outer Mongolia with various vaks, and Diane McBain, who is desperate for Ilva (posing as a hardress) to give her a finger wave. (R-Color).

6:30-7:30 Channels 2-7-12—The Wild, Wild West continues its sadistic, playful route with 'The Night of the Tenth Chamber.' Agent Robert Conrad is the target of devilish huggers before he ends up locked in a gloomy wine press with pretty Sigrid Valdis. All this is due to villain Alfred Ryder's sour grapes over Conrad's heroic schemes to protect a captured governor. (Repeat).

7:30-8 Channels 2-7-12—There's some fun on Hogan's Heroes as J. Pat O'Malley guest stars as a general masquerading as a corporal. As a fellow prisoner, he is anxious to set up a radar device in Stalag 13 so it can guide Allied bombers to a German rocket factory. (R-Color).

8:30-9 Channels 11-6-9—Gomez, The Reluctant Lover, on The Addams Family is not recommended for Cassanovas who take their romances seriously. But those of the love 'em and leave 'em scared school will find a grin or two as John Astin tries to boost the morale of his son's school teacher after the lady takes a fancy to one of his letters. Actor James Garner settles his lanky frame into the cockpit of a racing car at Monte Carlo where he is starting in a $6 million racing epic "Grand Prix." His diversion during his stay in Monte Carlo is at the city's famed casino where patrons are too intent on gambling to pay attention to an American movie star. (AP Wirephoto)

John Gielgud Returns With Ages of Man

BY TV SCOUT

9:10 Channels 2-12—Sir John Gielgud concludes his stirring 'Ages of Man' with Shakespearean selections devoted to maturity and death. Hamlet is well represented here, including 'O, what a rogue and peasant slave art thou' and 'To be or not to be.' This Other Eden' speech from Richard the Second (Repeat).

9:10 Channels 4-5-7—The Man From U.N.C.L.E.'s 'The Deadly Toys Affair' is another madcap outing. Solo and Ilva try to protect Jay North (who is used to be Dennis the Menace) a boy with a whopper of an IQ. It's the usual hide-and-seek with Thrush, out to get the boy's brain. The fun here is from Angela Lansbury (Broadway 'Mame') who plays an auntie who has been making films in Outer Mongolia with various vaks, and Diane McBain, who is desperate for Ilva (posing as a hardress) to give her a finger wave.
